Course Number: 17073

Class Time: Tuesday, 4:05-4:55 PM and Thursday, 9:30 AM-11:30 AM .

Location: AHA Lab area

Description:

The Bateman Case Study Competition is PRSSA's premier national case study competition for public relations students and gives you an opportunity to apply your classroom education and internship experiences to create and implement a full public relations campaign. This semester we will focus on planning, implementing and evaluating your public relations plan for the News Literacy Project.

Instructor: Christine Bucan

Email: c.bucan@ufl.edu

Office Hours: Tuesday 3-4 PM, Wednesday 2-3 PM, and by appointment

Required Texts

There are no required textbooks for this course. I will assign reading material over the course of the semester and will post it on Canvas. Students are expected to be regular readers of free updates from PRWeek Daily Breakfast Briefing. PRWeek is accessible to UF students through the UF George A. Smathers Libraries online database system.

Course Learning Objectives

The Bateman Case Study Competition is PRSSA's premier national case study competition for public relations students. It provides students an opportunity to apply everything learned in the classroom and through internships and work opportunities to create and implement a public relations campaign.

Upon completing this class, students will learn to:

- Work as a team to develop a fully integrated public relations campaign for a national client;
- Recognize the importance of research and planning;
- Understand how to create an impactful plan that is actionable and on budget;
- Develop public relations materials that effectively and strategically meet your public relations objectives;

- Tailor communications – including content, style and format – based on target audiences and objectives;
- Create a schedule to keep on track of all deliverables and deadlines.

College of Journalism and Communications Objectives

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications requires that by graduation all students should be able to:

- apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, in a global context, and for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located;
- demonstrate an understanding of the multicultural history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- demonstrate culturally proficient communication that empowers those traditionally disenfranchised in society, especially as grounded in race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation and ability, domestically and globally, across communication and media contexts;
- present images and information effectively and creatively, using appropriate tools and technologies;
- write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- apply critical thinking skills in conducting research and evaluating information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- effectively and correctly apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

Diversity Statement

Your experience in this class is important to me. I embrace a notion of an intellectual community enriched and enhanced by diversity along several dimensions, including race, ethnicity and national origins, gender and gender identity, sexuality, socio-economic class, disability, age, and religion. It is my intent that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives be well-served by this course and that the diversity that students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit. Please let me know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally or for others.

Key Course Policies

Instructor Interaction:

The best way to reach me is by e-mail. I check my e-mail account regularly, but please do not expect a response by e-mail after normal business hours/over the weekend. If I have not written back within 48 hours, please send your email again. As my email is considered a state public record, I do not discuss grades or any student records issues via e-mail. Please schedule a meeting with me to discuss these issues.

Attendance & Participation:

The class attendance and late policy is designed to mimic the professional environment. If you miss important meetings or are consistently late, it reflects negatively on your professionalism and commitment. If you know you will be absent from class or cannot attend a meeting (i.e. due to a religious holiday or extra-curricular, school-related activity), please notify me and your teammates as early as possible.

Late or Missed Work:

Deadlines for each assignment will be given and students are expected to meet them. Late assignments will automatically lose a full letter grade for each week it is late (e.g. B to a C). Some consideration, however, might be given (at the discretion of the instructor) if there are extenuating circumstances such as prolonged hospitalization, family death, or extended individual sickness; however, you need to notify me before the deadline is missed, not after the fact.

Email Policy:

As a state employee, my email is considered a public record, and can be requested via an open-records request. Because of this, you should not email things that you would be uncomfortable with anyone else reading (personal information, information about grades, ect.). In general, face-to-face meetings tend to take less time, and result in less confusion than emailed conversations. While you are welcome to email me, I may indicate that you need an in-person meeting depending on the complexity of the issue. Also, please be aware that email is considered formal communication, and it is important to practice professionalism. Make sure that you do not treat email as text (i.e., don't use text abbreviations) and never email something that you would not say to your boss' face.

University Honesty Policy:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with me.

I will document and report all honor code violations, including cheating and plagiarism. The minimum penalty for a violation of the honor code is a zero on the assignment or exam but may be higher depending on the severity of the violation.

Professionalism:

As PR students I expect you to maintain a high level of professionalism in all of our interactions. This includes being courteous and respectful to all members of the course. Being respectful includes making sure you are not distracting to others via your cell phone or computer usage, talking with others during lecture, or arriving or leaving late – practice your professionalism now!

Students Requiring Accommodations:

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation:

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations here. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students here.

Grading and Assignments

I will be as fair and impartial as is humanly possible in the grading process. Each of you will be graded on the same criteria. Because of this, no extra work or special assignments will be given. Grades are earned; they are not gifts. Grades are awarded on the basis of quality, not the amount of time expended. I will keep grades posted on Canvas - it is your responsibility to check on your progress throughout the semester.

Grade components for the class are as follows:

In-Class Participation and Discussion (10 percent) – You will be working as a tight-knit team and, as such, it will be important that you attend all scheduled meetings and classes. We will set up a group chat to communicate with one another regarding meeting times and I will let you know which classes and meetings are mandatory.

Research and Plan (20 percent) – Working as a team, you will analyze and write up all research conducted on behalf of the client. You will use this research to guide your plan to include goals, objectives, strategies and tactics. (Due Jan. 31)

Campaign Material (20 percent) – Working as a team, you will develop campaign material including, but not limited to, radio and TV PSAs, fliers, social media posts and PPT presentations. (Due Feb. 2)

Execution (20 percent) – Working as a team, you will implement the plan during the designated time period. This will include social media, community outreach and media relations. (February 6-March 6.)

Final submission (30 percent) – You will be graded on the final campaign submission to include everything in the client brief. (Due March 27)

Submitting Assignments:

All assignments must be “client-ready,” which means they have been proofread, reviewed and formatted.

Everything you write for this course must be coherent, logical and carefully edited. Fact errors, misspellings, and syntax and grammatical errors are unacceptable, especially in work by public relations students, and will greatly affect your grade. AP Style guidelines should be followed for all materials.

You must submit all assignments two ways:

1. Print and submit all assignments in class.
2. Upload assignments to Canvas.

Grading follows current UF grading policies. The grading scale for the course is as follows:

A	94.0 – 100%	B	84.0 – 86.99%	C	74.0 –76.99%	D	64.0 – 66.99%
A-	90.0 – 93.99%	B-	80.0 – 83.99%	C-	70.0 –73.99%	D-	60.0 – 63.99%
B+	87.0 – 89.99%	C+	77.0 –79.99%	D+	67.0 – 69.99%	E	below 60%

Standard UF Policy Information and Links

Software Use:

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Student Privacy:

There are federal laws protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments. For more information, please go here.

In-Class Recording:

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Policy on Course Syllabi 3 UF, Academic Affairs, July 28th, 2021 Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
