Contacting Me

The best way to contact me is via email: lduke@ufl.edu. However, I don't check email outside of business hours; so don't expect replies on weekends or evenings. It's not that I don't care about you, but most business people follow this model. Plan ahead!

Students with disabilities

Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students will provide documentation of the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodations.

If you have a disability, you'll need to make an appointment with me the first week of class to discuss your accommodations. If your disability requires special testing arrangements (e.g., extra time, quiet environment), you will take your exams at the disability office. You will also need to keep track of the appropriate paperwork for this.

Homework

You receive credit for on-time class participation. Throughout the semester, you will be required to do homework, make presentations, and create initial concepts. If you miss an in-class assignment due to an unexcused absence, or if you do not have your materials on the due date, or you complete homework in class, you will receive a zero for that assignment. You may not give me your ideas to present in lab ahead of time for an unexcused absence; you must be physically present to critique and present concepts in lab.

VIDEO HOMEWORK on LYNDA.com.

Homework assignments will include watching assigned Lynda.com video tutorials. We will not review this work in class and you will be tested on it. Do not short-change yourself or your grade by neglecting to complete tutorials in a timely fashion.

You have free access to Lynda.com as a UF student. Just go through lss.at.ufl.edu and click the lynda.com link.

The courtesy of your full attention

I expect you to turn off your cell phone in class and not to work on the computers when any class member is talking to the class. You must refrain from checking e-mail and FB during lab time or you will be asked to leave the class and will be counted absent for the day.

Your responsibility

I will not review material that has already been covered in class. If you choose to miss class, it is your responsibility to acquire missed hand-outs, notes, and/or explanations of missed material from your classmates.

Absences

There is a high correlation between regular class attendance and the best grades. I reserve the right to reduce your final grade up to two full letter grades for each unexcused absence. If you have two unexcused absences, you will fail this course.

An absence is excused for urgent personal or family health conditions certified by a physician or counselor, religious holiday, certified University business or participation in a University sporting event, or a certified military obligation. (Italicized must be pre-approved by the instructor one week in advance of the event.) In all other cases, you must notify the professor by noon on the class day that you will be absent in order to be excused. DON'T SCHEDULE NON-URGENT DOCTOR'S APPOINTMENTS (YEARLY DENTAL CHECK-UP, PHYSICALS, ETC.) DURING CLASS TIME; THESE WON'T BE EXCUSED. If you know you're going to miss class, you must tell me in writing. I need written records; I quite honestly can't keep track of everything that is told to me. What doesn't count for excused absences? Entertaining out-of-town guests, missing airplanes, sick roommate/pet, etc. If it isn't mentioned in the paragraph above, it isn't excused. If you leave class before it ends without my OK, you may be counted as having an unexcused absence.

Makeup work for excused absences will be due the next class or lab period. Turn it in the minute you walk in the door; I will not ask for it. Make sure this work is clearly marked "Makeup" at the top center of the page. Get notes from classmates -- I do not provide note shells as I believe they hinder your concentration during classes.

Late policy

I know we all are late from time to time, but you will be expected to be here when class begins, not after. If you come to class multiple times or more than 15 minutes late, you will be counted as absent.

Execution

Usually, thumbnails or rough marker comps are just enough to convey the idea accompanied by typed copy by due date (for roughs). No restrictions on medium or color -- whatever works.

You will learn how to use computers for layout, but in the first few weeks, the computer is a hindrance to good idea generation. I'd rather you use your time to develop great concepts, not computer layouts. If you come up with ideas you feel are worthy of taking to a finished comp stage, we'll get it done. Writing assignments and scripts must be typed (the proper format will be provided). Handwritten scripts will automatically receive an E.

You are ultimately entering the field of communication. Therefore, spelling and grammar do count. You will be penalized for misspelled word (including mixing up homonyms such as it's and its) and grammar/punctuation errors.

Always make a backup copy of your work. Lost originals are not an acceptable excuse for missed deadlines.

Backup!

It is important to have a backup workflow and follow the procedures for everything you are trying to save on the computer. The computer hard drives on campus are cleared of student files every day, so do not store your files on them. Make backups of your backups.

The Honor Code

Preamble: In adopting this Honor Code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. A student-run Honor Court and faculty support are crucial to the success of the Honor Code. The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon the community acceptance and enforcement of the Honor Code.

The Honor Code: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

“On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.”
