- Communicate effectively in forms and styles appropriate to the telecommunication professions, audiences and the purposes they serve

TEXTBOOK

Mittell, J. (2010). Television and American Culture. New York: Oxford University Press.

There will be additional required readings posted to the course site in E-Learning in Sakai ("Sakai"). See below for details about accessing the course site.

E-LEARNING IN SAKAI

This class has a website available through e-Learning in Sakai. To access the site, go to <https://lss.at.ufl.edu/>, select "e-Learning in Sakai," and log in using your Gatorlink ID. Select the tab labeled "RTV 3405: 4338, Spring 2013."

If you have problems with Sakai or any computer problems, please contact the UF Helpdesk by email (helpdesk@ufl.edu) or by phone (352-392-4357).

COURSE POLICIES

Lecture materials- PowerPoint slides from the lectures will be posted to Sakai at the end of each week and will only cover the topics that I have lectured on so far. In other words, I will not post or distribute slides in advance of lectures, so please do not ask me to do so. PowerPoint presentations are a tool to enhance learning and should not be used as a substitute for attending lectures and reading course materials. In addition, quite often, I will still be in the process of finalizing lecture materials up until class time, so please come to class prepared to take notes.

Coming late/Leaving early- Please be on time. Class will start promptly at 5:10 p.m. If you must come in late, please do so as quietly as possible. If you must leave early, again, please do so as quietly as possible and without disturbing those around you.

Electronic devices- Laptops, tablets, and translators may be used in class for purposes of taking notes, but use of cell phones, MP3 players (iPods, Zunes, etc.), and eReaders (Kindles, Nooks, etc.), and any other electronic devices is prohibited in class. Please turn off or silence all electronic devices besides laptops, tablets, and translators and store them away during class.

Talking in class- Please do not have conversations with others around you during lecture. If you have a question or need clarification, please raise your hand and ask me. Save other discussions for when class is over.

Grades and the 24/7 Rule- When I post any grades, I will send an email to the class via the listserv. Please wait 24 hours after a grade is posted to contact me if it is missing or if you believe it is incorrect in case there is an error. Following this, you have one week (7 days) to request a review of an exam or to request credit that has not been posted. ALL grades are final after one week. This includes extra credit and attendance points.

EVALUATION

Progress in this course is assessed through two exams, a group pitch project, quizzes, and attendance. The breakdown of grades is as follows:

Exam 1	100 points
Exam 2	100 points
Group Pitch Project	100 points
Quizzes	50 points
Attendance	50 points
TOTAL POINTS	400 points

Exams

There are two exams in this class, each worth 100 points. NO MAKE-UP EXAMS. NO EXCEPTIONS. The dates of the exams are:

Exam 1: February 21

Exam 2: April 11

Group Pitch Project

At the end of the semester, you will propose a new television program that you believe will be able to deliver an important audience segment to a cable channel of your choosing. You will “pitch” the program in groups of five (5) in class during the last two weeks of class, making the case for why your show will succeed for the channel. You must provide a brief summary of the program, describe the audience you will attract and why it matters for the channel, and how your pitch will fulfill the logic of television production to become a success. You will also need to address the issue of negative representations of a group of your choosing (i.e., racial and ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities, women, members of the LGBT community, etc.) and find a way for your show to counter such problems for the channel's reputation.

You will be assigned to groups of five after the drop/add period has ended. A list of groups will be distributed via email and via Sakai. After the mid-term, we will do a lottery to determine the order of presentations. You will have exactly 5 minutes to present your pitch in class. Your presentation should be polished and rehearsed, designed to sell your idea and convince the class that this show will be a success. You may use visuals such as slides, but you must get Prof. Holmes a copy of the visuals or send a link to an online version before class begins; excessive time spent setting up media counts as part of your allocated 5 minutes.

Each student in each group should submit a copy of the pitch via Sakai by noon on April 23 along with an evaluation form of the other members of your group. More details on the project will be provided throughout the semester, and we will have class workdays to facilitate group work needed to finish the project.

Quizzes

To encourage students to keep up with course readings, there will be five quizzes worth 10 points each based on assigned readings. These quizzes will be administered via Sakai, will be timed, and will be linear access. The dates of the quizzes are:

- Quiz 1: Jan. 18-20
- Quiz 2: Feb. 1-3
- Quiz 3: Feb. 15-17
- Quiz 4: Mar. 15-17
- Quiz 5: Apr. 5-7

Attendance

Due to our large class size, it is not possible to take attendance daily. However, lecture is a crucial component to this course and it is expected that you attend class regularly. As such, there will be 10 random, unannounced attendance checks worth five (5) points each for a total of 50 points towards your final grade.

Grading Scale

I will be assigning grades according to the following scale:

A	372 or above (93% or more)	C	292 to 303 (73%-75.99%)
A-	360 to 371 (90%-92.99%)	C-	280 to 291 (70%-72.99%)
B+	344 to 359 (86%-89.99%)	D+	264 to 279 (66%-69.99%)
B	332 to 343 (83%-85.99%)	D	252 to 263 (63%-65.99%)
B-	320 to 331 (80%-82.99%)	D-	240 to 251 (60%-62.99%)
C+	304 to 319 (76%-79.99%)	E	250 and below (0%-59.99%)

Extra Credit

Students will have the opportunity to earn up to 20 points of extra credit throughout the course of the semester. These points will be earned through participating in activities announced in class, via email, and on Sakai.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

Students in this course are expected to uphold the UF Honor Code:

“On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in taking this exam.”

If you are caught cheating or helping someone else cheat, you will be subject to sanctions according to the procedures of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution (SCCR): <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/procedures/honorcode.php>. If you suspect another student of cheating, please let me know, or call the Cheating Hotline (352-392-6999).

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to you. You will then provide that documentation to me when requesting accommodation.
