Meeting Time:

Wednesdays 6:30-9:30 PM Eastern Standard Time

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course synthesizes two different but complementary tools of communication: graphic design and assembly (both print and electronic). Students will learn the fundamental design principles and techniques for effective visual communication. These principles and techniques are applied, through projects, to achieve a communication objective across different platforms. Students can expect a practical, hands-on experience. A key tool for creating your digital work in this course is Adobe Illustrator. Illustrator is an effective tool for creating original artwork, and for designing logos, banners, icons and navigational elements for online and print. The artwork can then easily be exported to the Web or imported into other programs.

Course Objectives:

By the end of this course, students will:

- Communicate the difference between a brand and an identity
- Create effective logos and corporate identities
- Demonstrate understanding of basic color and typographic theory
- Be able to utilize Illustrator at an advanced level

Course Expectations:

This course will be administered fully online. It is setup in a series of modules over a 16-week period. Each module will use a combination of lectures, assigned reading and/or supplemental videos to cover the week's material. Students will demonstrate their comprehension of each module by completing a quiz and design check assignment weekly.

In addition to weekly assignments, two projects will be assigned throughout the semester. Projects are intended to assess comprehension of theoretical ideas and technical skills. As part of these projects, students will present their progress in a class critique before each is submitted for a grade.

Lectures will be conducted using both live meetings and pre-recorded videos. Live meetings will be held on Wednesdays from 6:30-9:30 PM Eastern Standard Time using the Adobe Connect classroom. It is expected that students will be actively engaged in live lessons.

This course observes the UF academic calendar including holidays, start/end dates etc. All due dates and class times are set in Eastern Standard Time. If you live in a different time zone, please adjust accordingly.

It is expected that all work will be completed on time and that students will participate in class discussions in a professional manner while respecting the instructor and fellow students. These discussions are not limited to the Canvas shell, but all platforms that involve coursework.

OWNERSHIP EDUCATION:

As graduate students, you are not passive participants in this course. All students in this Program have a background in marketing, advertising, public relations, journalism, or similar fields. This class allows you to not only take ownership of your educational experience but to also provide your expertise and knowledge in helping your fellow classmates. The Canvas shell will have an open Q&A thread where you should pose questions to your classmates when you have a question as it relates to an assignment or an issue that has come up at work. Your classmates along with your instructor will be able to respond to these questions and provide feedback and help. This also allows everyone to gain the same knowledge in one location rather than the instructor responding back to just one student which limits the rest of the class from gaining this knowledge.

Required Text/Materials:

There is no required textbook for this course. Links to weekly reading assignments will be provided on Canvas.

REQUIRED:

Access to Adobe Illustrator CC

RECOMMENDED:

Two monitor setup, for following along during Illustrator skills lessons.

Prerequisite knowledge and skills:

This course assumes that everyone starts out at a beginner level. No prior knowledge of Adobe Illustrator is necessary. It is recommended that students be familiar with basic computer techniques, such as zipping files, before beginning the course. Please contact the instructor if you have any concerns about this.

Teaching Philosophy:

Methodology consists of a step-by-step informational format from basics to the advance. Both design theory and technical skills will be taught assuming students have no prior background in the field.

Interaction is a key element of learning about design. As part of live lessons, students will frequently follow along with technical skills demonstrations. Students are encouraged to ask questions, offer alternative approaches, and share resources. This can be done as part of the live lesson or using the Canvas discussion forum.

Course Policies:

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Students are expected to attend all live classes. In the event that a student is not able to attend a live lecture, they are asked to watch the recorded class and write a one-page reaction paper to the discussion. A template is available on Canvas.

Reaction papers are due to instructor (and TA if applicable) by 6 p.m.

before the following class. Please use the subject line "VIC 5315 MCR [Insert Date]" in your email. Attendance from MCR papers will be updated on Thursdays of each week.

LATE WORK AND MAKE-UP POLICY:

Deadlines are critical to this class. All work is due on or before the due date. Extensions for deadlines will only be for preapproved emergencies. Minor inconveniences such as family vacation or minor illness are not valid reasons for extensions. With this in mind there will be penalties for late work:

Less than an hour late | 05 points off

More than an hour late but less than 24 hours late | 10 points off

More than 24 hours late but less than 48 hours late | 15 points off

More than 48 hours late | Not accepted at all

Issues with uploading work for a grade is not an excuse. If student is having technical difficulties with Canvas, there are other means to submit completed work. Student may email .zip files or even links to Dropbox folders to Instructor via UF email. Students should compensate for technical difficulties by not waiting until the last minute to submit work.

Any requests for make-ups due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from LSS when the problem was reported to them. The ticket number will document the time and date of the problem. You MUST e-mail your instructor within 24 hours of the technical difficulty if you wish to request a make-up. Contact UF helpdesk (352) 392-HELP.

MISSING IN-CLASS CRITIQUES:

Students will present the progress on their projects in a class critique. If a student cannot attend critique for any reason, they are expected to record a video of their presentation to be shared in class. Videos should be submitted in a YouTube (or otherwise shareable) format. Please ensure privacy restrictions are turned off.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found in the online catalogue at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

Coursework Submissions:

All assignments, quizzes, etc. will be submitted electronically through the Assignments in Canvas.

Deadlines:

This class, like others, involves many deadlines. You can expect all assignments for this course to be due on Wednesdays 6 PM EST. New modules also begin on Wednesdays, corresponding with live lecture times.

Quizzes and Design Checks	6 PM EST Wednesdays
Mid-Semester Project Critique File	6 PM EST Wed. Oct. 11 (before in-class presentation)
Mid-Semester Project (Final)	6 PM EST Wed. Oct. 18
Final Project Critique File	6 PM EST Wed. Nov. 29 (before in-class presentation)
Final Project (Final)	6 PM EST Wed. Dec. 6
Missed Live Class Reaction	6 PM EST Wednesday (before the following class)

Artwork Policy

Any and all vector artwork work must be original. The student must personally create all logos and identity elements. The use of stock vector images is prohibited.

IMAGE TRACE

If a student plans to use Illustrator's Image Trace feature, they should submit the original artwork along with their assignment. There should be a significant difference in the final product from the original artwork.

Grading:

Your work will be evaluated according to the following distribution:

DESIGN CHECK ASSIGNMENTS	40%
PROJECTS	30%
QUIZZES	20%

Current UF grading policies for assigning grade points: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx>

Emergency and extenuating circumstances policy:

Students who face emergencies, such as a major personal medical issue, a death in the family, serious illness of a family member, or other situations beyond their control should notify their instructors immediately.

Students are also advised to contact the Dean of Students Office if they would like more information on the medical withdrawal or drop process: <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/care/medical-withdrawal-process/>

STUDENTS MUST INFORM THEIR ACADEMIC ADVISOR BEFORE DROPPING A COURSE, whether for medical or non-medical reasons. Your advisor will assist with notifying professors and go over options for how to proceed with their classes. Your academic advisor is Tiffany Robbert, and she may be reached at trobber@jou.ufl.edu

COURSE & ASSIGNMENT DETAILS

LECTURES	WEEKLY
QUIZZES	WEEKLY
DESIGN CHECKS	WEEKLY
MID-SEMESTER PROJECT	OCT. 18
FINAL PROJECT	DEC. 6

Weekly Quizzes

Students are expected to complete a five-question quiz in accordance with each module. Quiz questions will cover all material from the module including lectures, readings and supplemental material. Topics will include both design theory and technical skills.

Quizzes will become available on Canvas during class each week, and are due before class the following Wednesday at 6 PM. For example, the week #1 quiz will open on Canvas during the first class and be due by 6 PM before class on week #2.

Please note that there are often several different ways to complete tasks in Illustrator. In order to ensure fairness, all skills-related questions will utilize methods discussed in class.

Students will not be assigned a new quiz during critique weeks or holidays.

Quizzes are available on Canvas under both Assignments and Quizzes, and also linked within each module.

Due: Wednesdays at 6 PM

Quiz Rubric

Each question is worth one point, for a total of 5 points

Weekly Lectures:

Lectures will consist of both live and pre-recorded material. Most modules will use a mix of the two, so students should expect to come to class each week. Students will be notified in advance if certain modules will use only pre-recorded material.

Pre-recorded video links will be distributed during live lessons and also posted on Canvas in accordance with each module. Links will be posted after the live lesson has occurred. In the event that there is no live class one week, pre-recorded video links will be emailed out and posted on Canvas before a live lesson would typically occur.

Weekly Design Checks

The best way to learn is by doing. Students will complete weekly design check assignments in accordance with each module. These assignments are intended to reinforce and blend both theoretical and technical skills covered each week. For the most part, they will be completed in Adobe Illustrator. Topics and prompts will vary according to the material presented in each module. Students may be asked to perform a certain Illustrator technique and/or demonstrate understanding of theoretical concepts (types of logos, typography, color, hierarchy etc.).

Unless otherwise noted, students will upload their completed work in PDF and AI formats to the appropriate assignment on Canvas.

Design checks will become available on Canvas during class each week, and are due before class the following Wednesday at 6 PM. For example, the week #1 design check will open on Canvas during the first class and be due by 6 PM before class on week #2.

Students will not be assigned a new design check during critique weeks or holidays.

Design checks are available on Canvas under Assignments and also linked within each module.

Due: Wednesdays at 6 PM

Design Check Rubric \(see Appendix\)

Projects: Two projects will be assigned throughout the semester assessing theoretical and technical concepts.

Mid-Semester Project

In the mid-semester project, students will begin to demonstrate their understanding of working with client needs and requests. Students will be allowed to choose one of three instructor-provided clients. They should expect to provide three distinctly different logo design concepts for their chosen client. Detailed requirements of this assignment will be available on Canvas.

Mid-Semester Project Critique: October 11 during live class

Due for Grade: October 18 at 6 PM EST

Mid-Semester Project Rubric \(See Appendix\)

Final Project

In the final project, students will demonstrate their mastery of design concepts and Illustrator techniques. Students will be asked to create a complete visual identity system for an instructor-provided client. Detailed requirements of this assignment will be available on Canvas.

Final Project Critique: November 29 during live class

Due for Grade: December 6 at 6 PM EST

Final Project Rubric \(See Appendix\)

PROJECT CRITIQUES Being a designer is more than just sitting behind a computer. It is important to learn how to give and receive feedback. As part of the projects, students will participate in a design critique before submitting their assignment for a final grade.

As part of this, students will give a five-minute presentation of their progress on the project in live class. During this time, students will receive feedback from their peers on their design (using the Adobe Connect chat feature). Students are encouraged to ask questions, present multiple options, etc. so that they may benefit from the process as much as possible.

This gives students the opportunity to receive peer-to-peer feedback on their projects before submitting them for a grade. Assignments do not need to be fully complete before a design critique, and students are allowed (if not encouraged) to make changes based feedback provided during their presentation before submitting for a grade.

Please see late work policy for instructions on missing a critique.

CRITIQUE RUBRIC Students will be graded on participation only. Participation includes both presenting work and providing feedback to peers. This is part of the overall project grade.

University Policies

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities:

Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/> ). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations.

Students with Disabilities who may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to notify the instructor and contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) so that reasonable accommodations may be implemented. DRC is located in room 001 in Reid Hall or you can contact them by phone at 352-392-8565.

Netiquette: Communication Courtesy:

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions and chats. <http://teach.ufl.edu/wp-content/uploads/2012/08/NetiquetteGuideforOnlineCourses.pdf>

Class Demeanor:

Mastery in this class requires preparation, passion, and professionalism. Students are expected, within the requirements allowed by university policy, to attend class, be on time, and meet all deadlines. Work assigned in advance of class should be completed as directed. Full participation in online and live discussions, group projects, and small group activities is expected.

My role as instructor is to identify critical issues related to the course, direct you to and teach relevant information, assign appropriate learning activities, create opportunities for assessing your performance, and communicate the outcomes of such assessments in a timely, informative, and professional way. Feedback is essential for you to have confidence that you have mastered the material and for me to determine that you are meeting all course requirements.

At all times it is expected that you will welcome and respond professionally to assessment feedback, that you will treat your fellow students and me with respect, and that you will contribute to the success of the class as best as you can.

Other Resources:

Course Evaluation:

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>

Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester. Students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>

University Policy on Academic Misconduct:

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/students.php>

The University of Florida Honor Code was voted on and passed by the Student Body in the fall 1995 semester. The Honor Code reads as follows:

Preamble: In adopting this Honor Code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. A student-run Honor Court and faculty support are crucial to the success of the Honor Code. The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon the community acceptance and enforcement of the Honor Code.

The Honor Code: "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity."

On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

"On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

For more information about academic honesty, contact Student Judicial Affairs, P202 Peabody Hall, 352-392-1261.

Academic Honesty

All graduate students in the College of Journalism and Communications are expected to conduct themselves with the highest degree of integrity. It is the students' responsibility to ensure that they know and understand the requirements of every assignment. At a minimum, this includes avoiding the following:

Plagiarism: Plagiarism occurs when an individual presents the ideas or expressions of another as his or her own. Students must always credit others' ideas with accurate citations and must use quotation marks and citations when presenting the words of others. A thorough understanding of plagiarism is a precondition for admittance to graduate studies in the college.

Cheating: Cheating occurs when a student circumvents or ignores the rules that govern an academic assignment such as an exam or class paper. It can include using notes, in physical or electronic form, in an exam, submitting the work of another as one's own, or reusing a paper a student has composed for one class in another class. If a student is not sure about the rules that govern an assignment, it is the student's responsibility to ask for clarification from his instructor.

Misrepresenting Research Data: The integrity of data in mass communication research is a paramount issue for advancing knowledge and the credibility of our professions. For this reason any intentional falsification of data, or misrepresentation of the conditions or circumstances of data collection, is considered a violation of academic integrity. Misrepresenting data is a clear violation of the rules and requirements of academic integrity and honesty.

Any violation of the above stated conditions is grounds for immediate dismissal from the program and will result in revocation of the degree if the degree previously has been awarded.

Students are expected to adhere to the University of Florida Code of Conduct <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code>

If you have additional questions, please refer to the Online Graduate Program Student Handbook you received when you were admitted into the Program.
