INSTRUCTOR

JESSICA PELASKY

Email: jessica.pelasky@jou.ufl.edu

Phone: 419-961-0583 (call/text)

LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/jessicapelasky>

CONTACT:

If you have questions/concerns regarding anything, please do not hesitate on emailing instructor directly via her UF email address (jessica.pelasky@jou.ufl.edu), not within Canvas. For all emergencies, please contact Instructor via phone.

OFFICE HOURS:

Reaching out to your instructor is always the best option for further clarification. Students may contact Instructor directly via her UF email at any time with questions or concerns; a response should be received within a 1-12 hour window. If needed, students may also schedule a one-on-one meeting at an agreed upon timeframe.

INSTRUCTOR BIO:

Jessica has obtained a Bachelor of Science in Web Development and Design as well as Masters of Arts in Adult Education and Training – both via e-learning environments.

She has successfully managed her own Freelance Web Design business for 20 years by assisting various small businesses/individuals across the country with their own online brand. Her business focuses on domain registration, website hosting, web design, and blogging services. Every project is unique and built from the ground up by using the latest techniques in web design. Jessica's web design experience ranges in small to medium sized businesses/organizations such as up-and-coming recording artists, Broadway stars, actors, authors, churches/missionaries, state campgrounds, school districts and activities, medical offices, national organizations, as well as radio stations.

Jessica has always loved sharing her web design knowledge, while also helping individuals better themselves concerning new technological skills. For the last four years, she has been an online adjunct/facilitator for various Certificate, Bachelors, and Masters programs.

When she's not dabbling in the online world, she loves to travel, spend time with her family, play with her Coton de Tulear puppy, watch an amazing movie, read a great book, and is an avid coffee lover!

MEETING TIME:

This course is scheduled to meet on Tuesday and/or Thursday from 8pm-10pm EST.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

By the end of this course, students will gain the comfort and knowledge in creating, coding, and uploading their websites to the Internet. Students will start the semester by being introduced to a historical understanding of the web's evolution and key industry-standard design guidelines to ensure strong, and successful online presentations. Students will also gain a foundational knowledge of website creation (concentrating on HTML5 and CSS3) to be able to apply the knowledge into the different planning, design, and development stages when it comes to creating their own websites. Critical thinking will also be encouraged through class interactions, quizzes, homework assignments, and a semester long project.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Define and discuss web design history, terminology, and current trends
- Create and develop various web design states such as Sketches, Wireframes, Sitemaps, Design Mockups, and Style Guides
- Read, use, and write HTML5 and CSS3
- Acquire and set up domain and remote hosting accounts
- Ability to upload and maintain websites with remote servers via FTP

COURSE EXPECTATIONS

LIVE LECTURES AND SUPPLEMENTAL RECORDINGS:

This is a hybrid course where students will either meet live for coding lectures, or will be provided with supplemental recorded lectures. The Live Lecture schedule is available via your Canvas Classroom under the Modules or Calendar section; the Modules section is also where you will view the provided supplemental recordings that vary in length depending on the material. It is the student's responsibility to watch each and every provided recording.

There may also be Optional Q&A Live Lectures to give students the chance to ask questions directly to the instructor regarding course related topics. Attendance and Participation will not be recorded, but students are encouraged to attend.

All projects will be presented during the Live Lectures. Instructor expects all students to give classmates constructive critiques during presentations nights.

The Instructor may also send/post a weekly recording each Sunday (viewable via the Announcements section in your Canvas Classroom). These videos will summarize what students should expect during the upcoming week or requirements pertaining to graded assignments.

LIVE LECTURE ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION:

Each student is required to attend all Live Lectures and actively Participate.

Participation is kept track of during each live lecture. When working on coding exercises, Instructor expects students to follow along and/or take notes.

READINGS:

Instructor may provide links to be used throughout the semester regarding extra information pertaining to each topic.

DISCUSSIONS:

Discussion Boards via Canvas will be utilized throughout the semester to conduct conversations of design, helpful coding tips and tricks, as well as sharing any links to inspirational sites and articles. Each week students are to respond to the provided discussion question while also responding to at least one (1) of their classmates' discussion posting per week.

QUIZZES:

At least three (3) quizzes will be assigned throughout the semester which will cover lecture information and possible assigned readings. Students will have at least one week (7 days) to complete each quiz.

HOMEWORK/GROUP WORK:

Students will complete seven (7) to ten (10) homework and group work assignments throughout the semester to reinforce information taught during the lectures. These assignments are less intense than projects and focus more on execution, and working together, rather than creativity and design. Students will have at least one week (7 days) to complete each homework assignment, and the entire Live Lecture timeframe to complete group work.

PROJECTS:

There will be three (3) major projects throughout the semester that will correlate with each other to create a complete functional website and by the end of the semester. Each project will have specific requirements catering to the information taught during lectures, and may also require outside research. Students will have three (3) to five (5) weeks to complete each project.

SELF STUDY:

Students are also expected to self-study various web design trends and coding methods not covered within course materials, but will not be quizzed on it. The subject of Web Design is such a large topic in which you can't possibly learn everything within this course period.

OWNERSHIP EDUCATION:

As graduate students, you are not passive participants in this course. All students in this Program have a background in marketing, advertising, public relations, journalism, or similar fields. This class allows you to not only take ownership of your educational experience but to also provide your expertise and knowledge in helping your fellow classmates. The Canvas shell will have an "Open Q&A" thread where you should pose questions to your classmates when you have a question as it relates to an assignment or an issue that has come up at work. Your classmates along with your instructor will be able to respond to these questions and provide feedback and help. This also allows everyone to gain the same knowledge in one location rather than the instructor responding back to just one student which limits the rest of the class from gaining this knowledge.

COURSE MATERIALS

REQUIRED ACCESSORIES:

- Webcam/mic (live lectures/in-class presentations)

SUGGESTED ACCESSORIES:

- Two-Monitor setup (to code along with instructor during live lectures)

SUGGESTED TEXTBOOK:

- HTML and CSS: Visual QuickStart Guide 8th Edition by Elizabeth Castro, Bruce Hyslop

REQUIRED SOFTWARE:

- MS Word, Adobe Professional, Text editor (Brackets, Sublime Text, etc.), and FTP Client (CyberDuck, FileZilla, etc.).

 Details provided in Course Intro and Weeks 1 and 3.*

SUGGESTED SOFTWARE:

- Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator, or InDesign

REQUIRED PURCHASES:

- Domain name and basic hosting

 Details provided in Week 1.*

PREREQUISITE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS:

Basic Computer Knowledge is required for this course. Various Video Tutorials will be provided to assist students via your Canvas Classroom.

TEACHING PHILOSOPHY:

The Instructor plans on teaching this course assuming that students are a beginner with HTML and CSS, along with the history and rules of web design. She believes a successful website designer should be able to design a complete, functioning website built from the ground up; meaning: coding HTML and CSS from scratch without the use of pretty web design software. :)

COURSE POLICIES:

LIVE LECTURE ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION POLICY:

Each live lecture is recorded and provided to all students via Canvas Classroom; therefore, if emergency circumstances permit student from attending live lectures, he/she will be required to let Instructor know ahead of time so Instructor may plan accordingly. Student will also be expected to watch the recording within one week (7 days) of missed lecture and fill out the provided Summary Submission form to compensate for respected attendance and participation grade. Missing Live Lectures for anything other than emergencies are not excused.

Students are not required to submit a Summary Submission for supplemental recorded lectures.

If a situation develops where student is unable to attend any Live Lectures throughout the semester, they will be required to contact Instructor within the first week of class to discuss their options. Arrangements will be made on an individual basis.

To compensate for note taking/lack of Participation during Live Lectures, student should email Instructor any notes or coding completed during Live Lectures.

If student is not able to attend Presentation Nights, student will be required to record their presentation ahead of time and upload the video via YouTube. Student will then provide the URL to Instructor via UF email. Finally, student will also be expected to watch the recording of their classmates' presentations.

LATE WORK AND MAKE-UP POLICY FOR GRADED ASSIGNMENTS:

All deadlines and due dates will be provided by Instructor via Canvas Classroom. If adjustments are needed throughout the semester, student will be notified by Instructor ahead of time.

All work is due on or before the scheduled due date; extensions will only be given on a case-by-case basis by Instructor.

Inconveniences such as family vacation are not valid reasons for any extension.

With this in mind, these are the penalties for late work concerning graded assignments:

- Less than an hour late - 5 points deduction
- More than an hour late, but less than 12 hours late - 15 points deduction
- More than 12 hours late, but less than 24 hours late - 30 points deduction
- More than 24 hours late - Not accepted at all

Issues with uploading work for a grade is not an excuse. If student is having technical difficulties with Canvas, there are other means to submit completed work. Student may email Instructor said assignment or send Instructor links to uploaded assignment via Dropbox/Google Docs. Students should compensate for technical difficulties by not waiting until the last minute to submit work.

Any requests for make-ups due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from Tech Support when the problem was reported; the ticket number will document the time and date of the problem. You MUST e-mail your instructor within 24 hours of the technical difficulty if you wish to request a make-up. Please contact UF helpdesk at (352) 392-HELP regarding any technical issues.

Students who face emergencies, such as a major personal medical issue, a death in the family, serious illness of a family member, or other situations beyond their control should notify their instructors immediately.

Students are also advised to contact the Dean of Students Office if they would like more information on the medical withdrawal or drop process: <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/care/medical-withdrawal-process>.

Students MUST inform their academic advisor before dropping a course, whether for medical or non-medical reasons. Your advisor will assist with notifying professors and go over options for how to proceed with their classes. Your academic advisor is Tiffany Robbert, and she may be reached at trobber@jou.ufl.edu.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found in the online catalogue at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

CODING EXPECTATIONS, WYSIWYG EDITORS, CODE STEALING/COPYING

This course does not condone code stealing and/or copying of any kind. All graded assignments should be coded from scratch via your own hand-written code created with a course discussed text editor. You are not permitted to use Dreamweaver or any other WYSIWYG (What You See Is What You Get) software and editors to complete any graded assignment. Also, using any form of prebuilt HTML templates, CSS frameworks, or any other similar software or solutions of any kind are not permitted in this course. It is expected that you will be asked to use various CSS generators and some online resources to find solutions for more advanced HTML and CSS techniques and styling (for example: CodePen, CSS Tricks, Stack Overflow, etc.) Finally, all assignments are to be completed solo and are not considered collaborative, unless stated otherwise.

If you have any questions, or need clarification regarding these requirements, tools, or resources, please contact Instructor prior to using.

GRADING

COURSEWORK SUBMISSIONS:

All graded coursework should be submitted through Canvas via the Assignments or Discussions sections.

DEADLINES:

This class, like others, involves many deadlines. Each week starts on Sunday and goes through the following Sunday. Here are your average assignment deadlines:

Discussions Questions	11:59 PM EST Sunday
Discussion Responses	11:59 PM EST Sunday
Assignments	11:59 PM EST Sunday
Group Work	10 PM the night assigned
Quizzes	11:59 PM EST Sunday
Projects	7:59 PM Presentation Night

WEIGHTS:

All assignment grading will be on 100-point scale while using Weighted Categories. Work will be evaluated according to the following distribution:

Participation*	5%	Homework/Group Work	20%
Discussion Questions	5%	Project1	10%
Discussion Responses	5%	Project2	20%
Quizzes	10%	Project3	25%

Participation includes: Attendance and Live Lecture Participation (chat, responses to questions, actively engaged, submitted notes, etc.).*

POINT DETAILS:

- Each Discussion Question is worth 100 points.
- Each Discussion Response is worth 100 points.
- Each Homework/Group Work assignment is worth 100 points.
- Each Quiz is worth 20-25 points.
- Each Project is worth 100 points.

GRADING SCALE

The final grade will be awarded as follows:

A	100%	to	92.5%	C	< 76.5%	to	72.5%
A-	< 92.5%	to	89.5%	C-	< 72.5%	to	69.5%
B+	< 89.5%	to	86.5%	D+	< 69.5%	to	66.5%
B	< 86.5%	to	82.5%	D	< 66.5%	to	62.5%
B-	< 82.5%	to	79.5%	D-	< 62.5%	to	59.5%
C+	< 79.5%	to	76.5%	F	< 59.5%	to	0%

Current UF grading policies for assigning grade points: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/grades.aspx>

ASSIGNMENT DETAILS

SUMMARY SUBMISSIONS:

If student misses a required Live Lecture, student must watch the class recording and submit a Summary Submission to Instructor detailing the topics covered during the recorded lecture, as well as student's opinions on said topics.

Summary Submissions must be submitted via Word Document with the proper format provided by Instructor (during the first live lecture). Be sure to save Summary Submissions as:

[Week#]_[Day: Tuesday/Thursday]_SummarySubmission_[LastnameFirstname].doc

DOMAIN/HOSTING PURCHASING ASSIGNMENT:

Students will go through the process of purchasing a domain name and remote hosting account as discussed via lectures. Students will then submit their chosen domain name as well as list the chosen domain registrar/hosting company. This assignment is worth 100pts; full points will only be awarded if the student submits their chosen domain and registrar. Complete instructions may be found within your Canvas Classrooms.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

Each week one (1) Discussion Question will be provided via Canvas in which students are required to answer. Answering questions should require the use of personal opinions, outside research, helpful tips, as well as sharing any links to inspirational sites and articles. Each post must be thorough and contain a 200-300 words. All materials including class provided notes may be used.

PROJECT 3:

Throughout the semester students will be working towards creating their “first” fully-functional, four-page/section website on a topic of their choice. For Project #3, students will follow the directions to use elements and formatting discussed via lectures during the entire semester. This project will practice proper file naming techniques, clean coding, pleasing designs, FTP, HTML templates, SEO elements, as well as the following HTML elements: headlines, paragraphs, images, hyperlinks, etc. while applying CSS and CSS3 formatting. This assignment is worth 100pts and all materials including class provided notes may be used. Projects will also be presented live to the rest of the class. Complete instructions may be found within your Canvas Classrooms.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACCOMMODATING STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations.

Students with Disabilities who may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to notify the instructor and contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) so that reasonable accommodations may be implemented. DRC is located in room 001 in Reid Hall or you can contact them by phone at 352-392-8565.

NETIQUETTE: COMMUNICATION COURTESY:

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions and chats. <http://teach.ufl.edu/wp-content/uploads/2012/08/NetiquetteGuideforOnlineCourses.pdf>

CLASS DEMEANOR:

Mastery in this class requires preparation, passion, and professionalism. Students are expected, within the requirements allowed by university policy, to attend class, be on time, meet all deadlines, be organized. Work assigned in advance of class should be completed as directed. Full participation in Live Lectures, Discussions, and Group Work assignments is expected.

My role as instructor is to identify critical issues related to the course, direct you and teach relevant information, assign appropriate learning activities, create opportunities for assessing your performance, and communicate the outcomes of such assessments in a timely, informative, and professional way. Feedback is essential for you to have confidence that you have mastered the material and for me to determine that you are meeting all course requirements. Students should communicate with instructor when problems/issues arise.

At all times, it is expected you will welcome and respond professionally to assessment feedback, that you will treat your fellow students and me with respect, and that you will contribute to the success of the class as best as you can.

OTHER RESOURCES:

Other are available at <http://www.distance.ufl.edu/> getting-help for:

- Counseling and Wellness resources
 - <http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/> 352-392-1575
- Disability resources
- Resources for handling student concerns and complaints
- Library Help Desk support

Should you have any complaints with your experience in this course please contact your program director and/or student support coordinator at distancesupport@jou.ufl.edu or visit <http://www.distance.ufl.edu/student-complaints> to submit a complaint.

COURSE EVALUATION:

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>

Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester. Students will be asked to complete evaluations during a specific Live Lecture. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/students.php>

The University of Florida Honor Code was voted on and passed by the Student Body in the fall 1995 semester. The Honor Code reads as follows:

Preamble: In adopting this Honor Code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. A student-run Honor Court and faculty support are crucial to the success of the Honor Code. The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon the community acceptance and enforcement of the Honor Code.

The Honor Code: "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity."

On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

"On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

For more information about academic honesty, contact Student Judicial Affairs, P202 Peabody Hall, 352-392-1261.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

All graduate students in the College of Journalism and Communications are expected to conduct themselves with the highest degree of integrity. It is the students' responsibility to ensure that they know and understand the requirements of every assignment. At a minimum, this includes avoiding the following:

Plagiarism: Plagiarism occurs when an individual presents the ideas or expressions of another as his or her own. Students must always credit others' ideas with accurate citations and must use quotation marks and citations when presenting the words of others. A thorough understanding of plagiarism is a precondition for admittance to graduate studies in the college.

Cheating: Cheating occurs when a student circumvents or ignores the rules that govern an academic assignment such as an exam or class paper. It can include using notes, in physical or electronic form, in an exam, submitting the work of another as one's own, or reusing a paper a student has composed for one class in another class. If a student is not sure about the rules that govern an assignment, it is the student's responsibility to ask for clarification from his instructor.

Misrepresenting Research Data: The integrity of data in mass communication research is a paramount issue for advancing knowledge and the credibility of our professions. For this reason any intentional misrepresentation of data, or misrepresentation of the conditions or circumstances of data collection, is considered a violation of academic integrity. Misrepresenting data is a clear violation of the rules and requirements of academic integrity and honesty.

Any violation of the above stated conditions is grounds for immediate dismissal from the program and will result in revocation of the degree if the degree previously has been awarded.

Students are expected to adhere to the University of Florida Code of Conduct

If you have additional questions, please refer to the Online Graduate Program Student Handbook you received when you were admitted into the Program.
