Course Description: Students will explore faith based reporting opportunities in secular media. Special emphasis is placed on writing, researching, content, objectivity and on-air delivery. Students will learn some of the core beliefs that distinguish Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.

This is a special study. Students will set objectives and work with the instructor to meet their personal goals. Objectives could include:

- (1) producing stories acceptable for use in various Christian media platforms.
- (2) ability to conduct interviews for use in stories
- (3) ability to distinguish the basic beliefs of Judaism, Christianity and Islam
- (4) opportunity to polish your on-air presence
- (5) explore issues related to faith based reporting in secular media
- (6) develop a greater awareness of faith based issues that are newsworthy.
- (7) an opportunity to create quality work for your resume

Course Eligibility: Open

Required Equipment: none

Recommended Equipment: none

Recommended Textbooks:

*What do our Neighbors Believe? Questions and Answers on Judaism, Christianity, and Islam." Howard R. Greenstein, Kentra G. Hotz, John Kaltner

Class demeanor expected: students will be expected to participate in class discussions, turn off all cell phones BEFORE class starts or be prepared to surrender cell phone to instructor if it goes off in class, and treat your instructor and classmates with respect. Be on time for class---- story pitches are presented at start of class and are allotted a certain amount of time. If you miss them, or are late, you will be penalized.

Course Evaluation. Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>

Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>

The University of Florida Honor Code was voted on and passed by the Student Body in the Fall 1995 semester. The Honor Code reads as follows:

Preamble: In adopting this Honor Code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. A student-run Honor Court and faculty support are crucial to the success of the Honor Code. The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon the community acceptance and enforcement of the Honor Code.

The Honor Code: "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity."

On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

"On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

For more information about academic honesty, contact Student Judicial Affairs, P202 Peabody Hall, 392-1261.

Disability Awareness.

Students with Disabilities who may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to notify the instructor and contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) so that reasonable accommodations may be implemented. DRC is located in room 001 in Reid Hall or you can contact them by phone at 352-392-8565.
