Course Description

Intro to Social Media will familiarize students with the evolution, revolution as well as the status and future of social media for communications professionals.

This “how to” course focuses on social media best practices for content, frequency, visuals and the mechanics behind each. Students will learn how social media influences advertising, public relations, marketing, customer service and other aspects of communications.

The course explores the differences between the major social media channels including Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Instagram, Pinterest and Snapchat. In addition, students will learn:

- The strategy of developing a successful social media plan
- The significance of paid, earned and owned social media
- Audience targeting including persona and psychographics
- Social media optimization
- Social media productivity/ROI

Further, this class will teach students the skills and strategic principles needed to develop a social media communications plan. In addition, share the importance of using a strategic approach for using social media in an integrated marketing communications plan, corporate/personal branding, content creation and audience identification. The class is based on the latest research and practical application, the class will show students the how and the why for strategic social media and share how to take class learnings into a professional career. The course will give students the tools they need to adapt what they learn to new platforms and technology that may emerge in the future. By focusing on the role of social media in strategic planning for advertising, PR, marketing, non-profit advocacy and international communication students will leave with a broad base of practical knowledge for their career.

Course Design/Expectations

This course will combine both live sessions and recorded lectures. Live class sessions will be held select Tuesday nights of the semester starting at 7pm EST.

Access the class at: <https://ufl.zoom.us/j/396458150>

See the syllabus AND class calendar for live class dates. These dates may be subject to change depending on class circumstances, yet another reason to keep up with the Announcements tab.

Lectures

The recorded materials will help you to understand key concepts and assignments. These are reinforced in an online homework and in written submissions.

Please note: Follow only the syllabus for assignments, due dates and other relevant information. Some may have changed since the lectures were recorded.

Assignments

You will have regular assignments, and these will be the basis for your final grade.

There will also be several in-class team exercises to be presented in our live classes. For these I will be assigning teams and results will be presented in class by a member of each team. These exercises will be discussed in class.

Your semester-long project is to develop a social media strategic plan for a publicly traded brand or company. Your focus should be on the marketing or communication challenges faced by the company. This plan can be developed as a Word document, in PowerPoint or in a web-based program like WordPress. It's your choice!

In addition to your readings you will have two kinds of homework:

First, under the Discussion tab, you will find a discussion question. You should post a thoughtful response to this key topic question and respond to at least two posts from your fellow students. All responses should be placed in the "Discussion" section of your Canvas shell.

Too, we ask you post your initial Discussion question post on YOUR social media channels with the tag @UFCJOnline. This will do two things: allow you to continue to build a strong social media presence and allow UF to showcase your work (a benefit to both you and UF!) So, when you write your initial Discussion post, you should rephrase the question to make your work a stand-alone post. If you do not have a LinkedIn profile (if not, why not?) please create one as this platform will be an ideal one for your professional portfolio.

Second, you will complete homework dealing with the class materials. The homework will be found in Canvas.

Please follow the class calendar and Canvas schedules for when Discussion Questions and homework will be due.

Requirements

You will need an Internet connection to access your text, view the lectures, attend online class sessions, and complete your assignments.

You must be able to communicate with the instructor. Most communications can be done via email and the discussion board, but you may be asked to join Dropbox.com (a free online service) to share large files.

Ownership Education

As graduate students, you are not passive participants in this course. All students in this Program have a background in marketing, advertising, public relations, journalism, or similar fields. This class allows you to not only take ownership of your educational experience but to also provide your expertise and knowledge in helping your fellow classmates. The Canvas shell will have an open Q&A thread where you should pose questions to your classmates when you have a question as it relates to an assignment or an issue that has come up at work. Your classmates along with your instructor will be able to respond to these questions and provide feedback and help. This also allows everyone to gain the same knowledge in one location rather than the instructor responding back to just one student which limits the rest of the class from gaining this knowledge.

COURSE POLICIES

Attendance Policy

This is an online asynchronously delivered course AND include a live class on select Tuesday's of the semester. If you cannot attend the live classes, it is expected you will watch the recorded class during that week. Please email Prof Hughes a brief summary of the recorded class materials by the end of that missed week.

Late Work and Make-up Policy:

You are expected to prepare and submit your assignments on a timely basis. Due dates are clearly laid out in this syllabus and in the attendant class calendar.

Deadlines are critical to this class. All work is due on or before the due date. Extensions for deadlines will only be for preapproved emergencies. Minor inconveniences such as family vacation or minor illness are not valid reasons for extensions. With this in mind there will be penalties for late work:

Less than an hour late	05 points off
More than an hour late but less than 24 hours late	10 points off
More than 24 hours late but less than 48 hours late	15 points off
More than 48 hours late	25 points off
49 hours and greater late	Not accepted at all

Issues with uploading work for a grade is not an excuse. If you have technical difficulties with Canvas, there are other means to submit completed work. You may email .zip files or even links to Dropbox folders to Instructor via UF email. Another suggestion to compensate for technical difficulties by not waiting until the last minute to submit work.

Technical issue policy: Any requests for make-ups due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from LSS when the problem was reported to them. The ticket number will document the time and date of the problem. You MUST e-mail your instructor within 24 hours of the technical difficulty if you wish to request a make-up. Contact UF helpdesk (352) 392-HELP.

Emergency and extenuating circumstances policy: Students who face emergencies, such as a major personal medical issue, a death in the family, serious illness of a family member, or other situations beyond their control should notify their instructors immediately.

Students are also advised to contact the Dean of Students Office if they would like more information on the medical withdrawal or drop process: <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/care/medical-withdrawal-process/>.

Students MUST inform their academic advisor before dropping a course, whether for medical or non-medical reasons. Your advisor will assist with notifying professors and go over options for how to proceed with their classes. Your academic advisor is Tiffany Robbert, and she may be reached at trobbert@jou.ufl.edu.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found in the online catalogue at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

Coursework Submissions

In general, as noted throughout this syllabus, most coursework should be submitted through the Assignments tab in the Canvas classroom.

Assignment Information in depth

Discussion Assignments

During select weeks of the semester you will need to provide a thoughtful analysis of an assigned topic. Each week you will also post a response to two student's post that you either agree or disagree with.

You will find each discussion topic under each respective week in the syllabus.

Again, we ask you post your initial Discussion question post on YOUR social media channels with the tag @UFCJOnline. This will do two things: allow you to continue to build a strong social media presence and allow UF to showcase your work (a benefit to both you and UF!) So, when you write your initial Discussion post, you should rephrase the question to make your work a stand-alone post.

Please keep these guidelines in mind as you create your weekly posts:

1) Your writing should be thoughtful, reflective, and focused. You should also attempt to be persuasive, by which I mean you should try to convince others, especially others who disagree with you, that you have a valid and credible perspective. You may find the following piece helpful as a guide:

<http://opinionator.blogs.nytimes.com/2013/04/25/the-shadow-lobbyist/>

2) At a minimum, your discussion posts should average 400 words. You are strongly encouraged to document any facts you bring to bear in making your arguments. In general, when you provide factual information, it should be referenced.

3) At a minimum, your comments on the postings of others should run between 200 and 300 words.

Personal attacks or disrespect towards others is inappropriate and will cost you points on the assignment. I will watch and determine if I feel a discussion is inappropriate if needed. Your goal should be to help the author of the post you are commenting on see another perspective.

Here is an example of a response to the essay in the link above that does a good job of accomplishing this:

The average American, thanks to a substantial educational and social deficit, simply doesn't understand politics or public policy. The interesting question, then, is how does the political class govern in the name of The People when The People are missing in action? For many decades, the political class maintained the self-delusion of running a democracy by creating their own echo chamber--issues and ideas would echo among elites in D.C. or other capitals of the country until enough steam would build up behind a policy that it seemed like there was a consensus on the issue. As a member of the political elite, if you heard the same story from multiple quarters, you could perhaps convince yourself that what you were hearing reflected the true interests of the public, even if that public was rarely involved in such surges of elite opinion. It was perhaps inevitable that as the technology and capacity to micro-target small portions of the real public have advanced that political lobbyists would eventually realize that they could insert themselves into the political elite echo chamber by manufacturing a ground-swell of 'public opinion' by whipping up opinions on particular policies by enlisting some ideological or ignorant fraction of the public. The real question is whether the political class will eventually tire of the absurdity of this situation and actually enlist the public in meaningful deliberation of issues, though this would mean a loss of control.

Here is another:

Back on July 12, 2002, during a Bill Moyers "Now" interview (transcript here: http://www.pbs.org/now/transcript/transcript_lewis.html) with Chuck Lewis of the Center for Public Integrity, I heard that in 1968 there were a mere 62 registered lobbyists in D.C. - but that this figure had risen to 20,000 by the date of that program.

Three years later, there was a June 22, 2005 Washington Post article, "The Road To Riches Is Called K Street" (still posted online and easily found with a search of that headline), which told how :

"The number of registered lobbyists in Washington has more than doubled since 2000 to more than 34,750," that hiring was booming, and that fees and retainers had risen substantially.

Yet a Ross Douhat column from September 22, 2012, "Washington Versus America" - an intriguing commentary which noted that in 2011, seven of the ten most affluent counties in the U.S. were in the D.C. area, stated that:

"For Mitt Romney and the Republican Party, what's happened in Washington these last 10 years should be a natural part of the case against Obamanomics" - seemingly implying that a surge in influence- buying in D.C. was the fault of the president, and not the Washington Post-noted boom of the Bush years.

Mr. Edsall's column explains how the number of registered lobbyists could drop, while a corruption-generating industry still thrives at the heart of the federal government.

And one more:

It is the 4th branch of government and it showed its power during the gun debate. This branch is in the shadows and it is controlled by money coming from special interest groups such as the National Rifle Association, Organize For Action, the Koch brothers, Sheldon Adelson, Citizens United, all labor union PACS and approximately 4,600 other political action committees.

In the case of PAC's, they in theory represent a group of voters who are supporting the PAC. This creates a problem that: 1). Not every voter belongs to a PAC and 2) Not all PAC's are created equal. The more money the PAC has, the more influence they have. Further, the more one contributes to a PAC, the more influence that person has over the PAC.

Making things worse, these organizations have control over the other three branches of our, tongue in cheek, government. Most of these PAC'S are controlled by a small group of individuals making the decisions. In addition to these Political Action Committees, our elected officials spend much of their time soliciting money from very wealthy individuals in the following industries: Wall Street, Banking, Entertainment, Energy, Home Building, Technology and others.

Politics is the only industry I am aware of that allows its employees to take a paid leave of absence from performing their duties to look for another job; their reelection. I am very pessimistic. If we do not end this corruption the country will continue in its slow decline.... <http://lstrn.us/12kXsML>

4) Your initial Discussion posts are due by Thursday at 11pm ET of each week of the class. Comments on the posts of two classmates are due by Saturday at 11pm ET. Late submissions will be penalized.

Team In-Class Presentations

Most weeks when we have a live class you will be assigned to a team with other class members and teams will be given an assignment. The results of this work will be presented by one team member each week in our live class. Please rotate the presenter. Weekly assignments will be made in the Announcements tab.

Semester Long Project

Your semester-long project is to develop a social media strategic plan for a publicly traded firm or organization. Your focus should be on the marketing or communication challenges faced by the company. You should propose the company that you will work on to Prof. Hughes by Saturday, 11pm EST of Week 2 of the class. In proposing a company, be sure to indicate why you have chosen that company. You should also be sure there is sufficient public information available on the company to develop your plan.

You have several weeks to do the social media strategic plan. and it will be built in sections. Your homework assignments will take on each section and your final plan will be compiling these sections to form your final social media strategic plan.

You will find the outline for the semester long plan on page 115 of the text, followed by an explanation of each section. It would be helpful to read Chapter 6 early in your classwork. Additional readings each week will add insight and further plan directions.

The purpose of this semester long assignment is to lay a foundation for your future classes in our program.

Again, the format for your social media strategic plan can be Word, PowerPoint or a platform like WordPress. I am flexible here.

University Policies

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities:

Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations.

Students with Disabilities who may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to notify the instructor and contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) so that reasonable accommodations may be implemented. DRC is located in room 001 in Reid Hall or you can contact them by phone at 352-392-8565.

Class Demeanor:

Mastery in this class requires preparation, passion, and professionalism. Students are expected, within the requirements allowed by university policy, to attend class, be on time, and meet all deadlines. Work assigned in advance of class should be completed as directed. Full participation in online and live discussions, group projects, and small group activities is expected.

My role as instructor is to identify critical issues related to the course, direct you to and teach relevant information, assign appropriate learning activities, create opportunities for assessing your performance, and communicate the outcomes of such assessments in a timely, informative, and professional way. Feedback is essential for you to have confidence that you have mastered the

The new evaluation system is designed to be more informative to instructors so that teaching effectiveness is enhanced and to be more seamlessly linked to UF's Canvas e-learning management system. Students can complete their evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, or in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals.

University Policy on Academic Misconduct:

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at

<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/students.php>

The University of Florida Honor Code was voted on and passed by the Student Body in the Summer 1995 semester. The Honor Code reads as follows:

Preamble: In adopting this Honor Code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. A student-run Honor Court and faculty support are crucial to the success of the Honor Code. The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon the community acceptance and enforcement of the Honor Code.

The Honor Code: "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity."

On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

"On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

For more information about academic honesty, contact Student Judicial Affairs, P202 Peabody Hall, 352-392-1261.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

All graduate students in the College of Journalism and Communications are expected to conduct themselves with the highest degree of integrity. It is the students' responsibility to ensure that they know and understand the requirements of every assignment. At a minimum, this includes avoiding the following:

Plagiarism: Plagiarism occurs when an individual presents the ideas or expressions of another as his or her own. Students must always credit others' ideas with accurate citations and must use quotation marks and citations when presenting the words of others. A thorough understanding of plagiarism is a precondition for admittance to graduate studies in the college.

Cheating: Cheating occurs when a student circumvents or ignores the rules that govern an academic assignment such as an exam or class paper. It can include using notes, in physical or electronic form, in an exam, submitting the work of another as one's own, or reusing a paper a student has composed for one class in another class. If a student is not sure about the rules that govern an assignment, it is the student's responsibility to ask for clarification from his instructor.

Misrepresenting Research Data: The integrity of data in mass communication research is a paramount issue for advancing knowledge and the credibility of our professions. For this reason any intentional misrepresentation of data, or misrepresentation of the conditions or circumstances of data collection, is considered a violation of academic integrity. Misrepresenting data is a clear violation of the rules and requirements of academic integrity and honesty.

Any violation of the above stated conditions is grounds for immediate dismissal from the program and will result in revocation of the degree if the degree previously has been awarded.

Students are expected to adhere to the University of Florida Code of Conduct
<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code>

If you have additional questions, please refer to the Online Graduate Program Student Handbook you received when you were admitted into the Program.

Read The Differences Between Traditional CRM and Social CRM located here:

<http://oursocialtimes.com/traditional-crm-vs-social-crm-infographic/>

The article and infographic raises a number of differences between traditional marketing and Social Media marketing. Choose two of these differences and explain how these differences could impact a brand. Then, please comment on the responses of at least two classmates. In expressing your own opinion, do so critically (i.e., finding both commonalities and differences) but also respectfully and thoughtfully.

Canvas Homework:

As the first step in creating your semester long project, writing a social media strategic plan, using the points from the Charlton Marketing reading, develop (bullet points are fine) a situation analysis for your selected brand.

This article provides a great overview of your semester long plan development:

<https://blog.hootsuite.com/how-to-create-a-social-media-marketing-plan/>

Some points for the Situation Analysis (SA):

- For this assignment, only use #'s 1, 2, 3, 6, 8,14.

- This version of an SA can be considered ‘SA Light’. In later courses you may develop a more robust version of the SA.
- #'s 11 through 13 will be addressed during Week 6 when we look at the Target Audience
- For #2, an overview of financials will be fine. See this example for Starbucks <https://investor.starbucks.com/press-releases/financial-releases/press-release-details/2018/Starbucks-Reports-Record-Q3-Fiscal-2018-Revenues-and-EPS/default.aspx>
 - For this purpose, a summary of the bullet-points similar to those included in the release will be fine.

Read, watch lecture by Tuesday 11 PM ET.
