Kara is the former Interim Director of the UF CJC Online graduate program at the University of Florida College of Journalism and Communications. As Interim Director, Kara managed all eight online graduate specializations and four graduate certificates. Today, Kara owns and operates her own digital marketing and web design agency, Rewritten Page.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The goal of the capstone course is to combine all of the skills learned throughout the UF CJC Online master's program into a final semester-long project, which will test the student's mastery of learned concepts. The course is designed to incorporate acquired design and communication skills into a real world website and communications pitch to a client. The capstone course project will incorporate skills such as branding, layouts, strategic communication, digital marketing, research methods, coding, UX and web design. Students will develop a comprehensive communication campaign based on research and client needs. The completed campaign will be presented to the client at the end of the course. All students compete in teams and the client will determine an overall team winner who best captured the client's vision and solved their communications problem.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course, students will:

- Be able to successfully work as a team to develop a comprehensive and thoughtful communications campaign featuring digital strategy and design elements
- Design a fully functioning website and strategic campaign materials that meet client needs
- Use research to develop realistic communications goals
- Deliver a professional pitch to the client

COURSE GOAL

The overall goal of MMC6936 is to challenge students to work on teams and utilize all skills and knowledge acquired during the master's program to develop a comprehensive communications campaign and website.

EXPECTATIONS

Mastery in this class requires preparation, passion, and professionalism. Students are expected, within the requirements allowed by university policy, to attend class, be on time, and meet all deadlines. Work assigned in advance of class should be completed as directed. Full participation in online and live discussions, group projects, and small group activities is expected. My role as instructor is to identify critical issues related to the course, direct you to and teach relevant information, assign appropriate learning activities, create opportunities for assessing your performance, and communicate the outcomes of such assessments in a timely, informative, and professional way. Feedback is essential for you to have confidence that you have mastered the material and for me to determine that you are meeting all course requirements. At all times it is expected that you will welcome and respond professionally to assessment feedback, that you will treat your fellow students and me with respect, and that you will contribute to the success of the class as best as you can.

OWNERSHIP EDUCATION: As graduate students, you are not passive participants in this course. This class allows you to not only take ownership of your educational experience, but to also provide your expertise and knowledge in helping your fellow classmates.

RESOURCES:

Required Text:
None

Additional Resources:

Online articles may be required as weekly reading assignments throughout the semester in addition to the textbook readings. WDOC students are expected to have access to Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator, Text Editor of the student's choice, a domain and server to host the website.

Prerequisites: Students are in their final semester of the master's program. WDOC students should be able to use the Adobe Suite and coding techniques to design professional assets. DS students should be able to create a digital marketing strategy. Students must be able to video chat with teammates in Zoom.

TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

The instructor's role is to help students reach their full creative potential in designing a final project that incorporates a wide variety of skills. The hands-on approach allows for personalized attention and promotes an interactive dialogue.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

Students will be required to work on a team throughout the semester to fulfill project requirements. In addition to projects, students will be required to complete call reports to practice project management and planning skills. Students will attend a live lecture on Monday evenings or watch a recorded lecture to review important concepts related to projects and client interactions. At the midpoint in the semester, teams will meet with the instructor during lecture time to review project progress and troubleshoot any issues. All deadlines, project descriptions, reading assignments and links to lectures can be found on the corresponding week pages in Canvas.

COURSE POLICIES

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are required to attend the in-person classes, watch pre-recorded lectures and be present for team meetings with the instructor. Class participation is strongly encouraged and expected. Please be respectful and considerate of others when providing feedback. Students are expected and required to meet and communicate with their teams on a weekly basis.

LATE WORK AND MAKE-UP POLICY

All work is due on or before the due date listed in the course calendar. Deadline extensions will only be given on a case-by-case basis as determined by the instructor. Conflicts such as minor illnesses or vacations are not valid reasons for extensions. Unless excused by the instructor, work submitted after the deadline will result in a reduction of points for each day late beyond the original deadline. Issues with uploading work for a grade is not an excuse. If students have issues uploading work to Canvas, please e-mail the instructor immediately. To minimize upload issues, try zipping your documents. The instructor strongly encourages students to maintain backup copies of all work on an external hard drive or cloud-based system in case of a computer crash. Students should not wait until the last minute to submit work to avoid technical issues.

With this in mind there will be penalties for late work:

- |   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| • Less than an hour late                              | 5% off              |
| • More than an hour late but less than 24 hours late  | 10% off             |
| • More than 24 hours late but less than 48 hours late | 15% off             |
| • More than 48 hours late                             | 25% off             |
| • A week or more late                                 | Not accepted at all |

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found in the online catalogue at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

COURSEWORK SUBMISSIONS + DEADLINES

All projects must be submitted through Canvas by the posted deadline. Lecture weeks run from Monday through Sunday each week. Projects are typically due on Sundays by 11:59 p.m. throughout the semester unless otherwise noted. Please pay close attention to the due dates in Canvas.

EMERGENCY AND EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES POLICY

Students who face emergencies, such as a major personal medical issue, a death in the family, serious illness of a family member, or other situations beyond their control should notify their instructors immediately. Students are also advised to contact the Dean of Students Office if they would like more information on the medical withdrawal or drop process:

<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/care/medical-withdrawal-process/>.

DROP POLICY

Students MUST inform their academic advisor before dropping a course, whether for medical or non-medical reasons. Your advisor will assist with notifying professors and going over the process.

GRADING

Students are evaluated on their adherence to assignment requirements, attention to detail, professionalism, teamwork and timely completion of all assigned projects. Point breakdowns will be posted with project descriptions and rubrics on Canvas. Since the team aspect is so important, all team members will evaluate each other to ensure grades match the amount of work contributed. For each project, students must complete a Qualtrics survey describing the level of contribution from each team member.

Your work will be evaluated according to the following distribution:

- Attendance and Participation 5% of grade or 75 Points
- Call Reports 5% of grade or 75 Points

WEEKLY LECTURES

The instructor posts a weekly lecture or hosts team meetings each week unless otherwise noted. Team meetings may take the place of formal lectures during the semester. There will be a few live lectures at the beginning and end of the semester for presentations to or by the client.

ASSIGNMENTS

CALL REPORTS

There will be several call reports required during the semester. These call reports serve as a way to measure group work and project progress. The call reports will require you to list the upcoming projects your team is working along, what resources are required, how work will be divided and due dates. All members of the group must submit the document for points. The document can be the same for all members of the team. The call report rubric is below.

CALL REPORT RUBRIC
0 Points	No Report Received
1-2 Points	Very Little Information
3-4 Points	Doesn't Answer All Areas
5-6 Points	Lacks Details About Tasks
6-7.5 Points	Professional & Detailed Report
-1 Point Per Day Late

PROJECTS

There will be nine projects during the semester. The projects will build upon each other and culminate in a final presentation and campaign book. Each project is designed to test the students' ability to apply skills learned in previous classes to help a real world client. All project work should be professional, original, detailed and submitted on time.

Project 1: Situation Analysis

Project 2: Logo Design Proposal & Brand Manifesto

Project 3: Creative Brief/Branding Guide

Project 4: Website Wireframes & Mockups

Project 5: Campaign Strategy & Design Pieces

Project 6: Website Rough Draft

Project 7: Usability & User Experience Testing

Project 8: Final Website

Project 9: Campaign Document & Presentation

All rubrics are located on each individual assignment page in Canvas. Every project requires students to submit peer evaluations of their group project members. These evaluation scores will be calculated to determine team participation points for each project. It is important to pay attention to each project's instructions and rubrics to determine how the projects will be graded.

PROJECT RUBRICS

The following rubric is an example of how projects will be graded throughout the semester. Each project rubric can be found under the associated project page in Canvas.

Note: Every project has a teamwork component of the grade. Teamwork scores are determined based on averaging the peer evaluation scores. If less than the full teamwork point amount, the instructor will manually insert the point total into the rubric matrix.

TEAMWORK

At the beginning of the semester, students will submit a profile document with team preferences, skill sets, etc. The instructor will then divide students into teams who will work together throughout the semester to complete all projects and develop a comprehensive communications campaign for the client.

TEAM OVERVIEW:

All group members are expected to be respectful and considerate of others. Each team member is expected to contribute to every project during the semester. Figure out the strengths of each member and plan your task delegation accordingly. If there are major issues, let the instructor know.

PROCESS FOR REMOVING A NON-PRODUCTIVE TEAM MEMBER:

The following procedure is only to be utilized in extreme situations. If you are considering removing a team member, you must first speak with the instructor about the issue. The instructor will then act as group mediator to help the team members resolve the issue in a professional manner. If there is absolutely no way to rectify the situation, then the team members would complete the procedure below.

A non-productive team member is defined as a member of the team who does not contribute to projects and/or fails to communicate with team members on a regular basis. In order to document issues, teams are encouraged to keep note logs of issues and explain any problems on the project peer evaluation forms. The instructor should be made aware of any concerns as early as possible in case intervention is needed.

A member on any team may be removed from the team either -

- by unanimous vote of the team, OR
- at the discretion of the instructor

A vote by the team must occur at least one week before the official university course drop date and be reported in writing to the instructor and the affected student. The affected student must then either -

- find another student group to accept him or her, OR
- complete the project on their own, OR
- remove themselves from the course

TEAM CONTRACT:

All students must complete a team contract with fellow members of their assigned team. The contract is designed to be a binding agreement of how the team plans to communicate and treat each other during the semester. The contract will be housed on Canvas. All team members are expected to sign the document once terms are agreed upon.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACCOMMODATING STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations. Students with Disabilities who may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to notify the instructor and contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) so that reasonable accommodations may be implemented. DRC is located in room 001 in Reid Hall or you can contact them by phone at 352-392-8565.

NETIQUETTE COMMUNICATION COURTESY:

All participants in the course are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all e-mail messages, threaded discussions and chats. Please see the following document for more information: <http://teach.ufl.edu/wp-content/uploads/2012/08/NetiquetteGuideforOnlineCourses.pdf>

CLASS DEMEANOR

Mastery in this class requires preparation, passion, and professionalism. Students are expected, within the requirements allowed by university policy, to attend class, be on time, and meet all deadlines. Work assigned in advance of class should be completed as directed. Full participation in online and live discussions, group projects, and small group activities is expected.

My role as instructor is to identify critical issues related to the course, direct you to and teach relevant information, assign appropriate learning activities, create opportunities for assessing your performance, and communicate the outcomes of such assessments in a timely, informative, and professional way. Feedback is essential for you to have confidence that you have mastered the material and for me to determine that you are meeting all course requirements.

At all times it is expected that you will welcome and respond professionally to assessment feedback, that you will treat your fellow students and me with respect, and that you will contribute to the success of the class as best as you can.

COURSE EVALUATION

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online through e-Learning or via a link sent to the students' UF email accounts at the end of the semester.

Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>.

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at <https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-honor-code/>.

The University of Florida Honor Code was updated for the Fall 2018 semester. The Honor Code reads as follows:

The Honor Pledge: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity by abiding by the Student Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by Students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

“On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.”

For more information about academic honesty, contact Student Judicial Affairs, P202 Peabody Hall, 352-392-1261.

Additional information can be found at <https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/>.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

All graduate students in the College of Journalism and Communications are expected to conduct themselves with the highest degree of integrity. It is the students' responsibility to ensure that they know and understand the requirements of every assignment. At a minimum, this includes avoiding the following:

Plagiarism: Plagiarism occurs when an individual presents the ideas or expressions of another as his or her own. Students must always credit others' ideas with accurate citations and must use quotation marks and citations when presenting the words of others. A thorough understanding of plagiarism is a precondition for admittance to graduate studies in the college.

Cheating: Cheating occurs when a student circumvents or ignores the rules that govern an academic assignment such as an exam or class paper. It can include using notes, in physical or electronic form, in an exam, submitting the work of another as one's own, or reusing a paper a student has composed for one class in another class. If a student is not sure about the rules that govern an assignment, it is the student's responsibility to ask for clarification from his instructor.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Misrepresenting Research Data: The integrity of data in mass communication research is a paramount issue for advancing knowledge and the credibility of our professions. For this reason any intentional misrepresentation of data, or misrepresentation of the conditions or circumstances of data collection, is considered a violation of academic integrity. Misrepresenting data is a clear violation of the rules and requirements of academic integrity and honesty.

Any violation of the above stated conditions is grounds for immediate dismissal from the program and will result in revocation of the degree if the degree previously has been awarded.

Students are expected to adhere to the University of Florida Code of Conduct
<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code>

If you have additional questions, please refer to the Online Graduate Program Student Handbook you received when you were admitted into the Program.

4. View the student's presentations and review campaigns books
5. Select a winner within two weeks of presentation date

The students agree to provide:

1. An Online Communication Campaign Book
  - a. Teams will compile all of their communication ideas into a digital document for the client to review
  - b. The Campaign Book will contain:
    - i. A Situation Analysis including research and a SWOT analysis
    - ii. Logo Design Proposal & Brand Manifesto featuring a new logo design that fits the company
    - iii. Campaign Strategy explaining objectives, tactics & examples of proposed communication pieces
2. A Website

Post Presentation Expectations:

If the client decides to use the winning team's work, the client must notify the instructor within three weeks of selecting the winner. The instructor will then initiate communication between the client and winning team to implement components of the communications campaign.

The winning team will then provide the client with the following:

- Compressed folder of the website including stylesheets, plugin information, customized theme and website coding as of project completion
- Information about how the interactive elements can be updated and maintained on the website
- Scalable vector version of the logo in EPS format

Note: If the client would like additional materials such as native design files, the instructor must be contacted within five weeks of the presentation date. The instructor will then contact the winning team for file access.

After the deadline, the client relinquishes the right to access project materials that were not previously provided. At this time, the students, instructor, department and university are no longer obligated to assist the client.

Students are not responsible for maintaining, updating or editing the website. If the client desires to work with the students beyond the two week period, the client will establish a relationship where the students act as individual contractors. Students reserve the right to refuse assistance beyond the two-week period.

The client agrees to allow students to use design and website work created during the semester in their portfolios. Students agree to allow the client to use their design work and website without attribution to individual students or the team.
