

MMC 3203, Ethics and Problems in Mass Communications

Fall 2020

Overview: A cross-disciplinary introduction to ethics-relevant situations faced by media professionals. Topics include professional standards of conduct, audience representation and engagement and issues associated with the production, presentation and delivery of messages that reflect the best interests of audiences, clients and stakeholders. Much of what we learn in college and in life helps us sort right from wrong. A big part of education in advertising, journalism, public relations and telecommunication is learning right from wrong—what you're supposed to do versus what you're not supposed to do.

From introductory principles courses (e.g., ADV 3008, MMC 1009, MMC 2604, PUR 3000, RTV 3001) to Law of Mass Communication (MMC 4200), students learn what they should and should not do as matters of professional practice and legal responsibility. But, in media, as with any discipline, difficult dilemmas arise when we recognize that some issues are not matters of right versus wrong or legal versus illegal. Some of the toughest issues are right versus right! These issues raise moral questions, and we will work to answer them in this course.

In this course, we will learn and practice techniques for identifying and analyzing ethical issues and problems in mass communications.

Diversity:

The University of Florida's College of Journalism and Communications Department of Journalism embraces a commitment toward an intellectual community enriched and enhanced by diversity along a number of dimensions, including race, ethnicity and national origins, gender and gender identity, sexuality, class and religion. We expect each of our journalism courses to help foster an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society.

Prerequisites:

2JM designation and ADV 3008,
MMC 1009, MMC 2604,
PUR 3000 or RTV 3001 with minimum grade of C.

Expectations and Assignments Online Discussion Participation (25%)

Your contributions to online discussions are a major part of this course. Below is the rubric for online discussions.

	Excellent	Satisfactory	Needs improvement
Comprehension and evaluation of key components of the module's required readings and online resources	Posts demonstrate clear and analytical understanding.	Posts indicate an awareness of course resources.	Posts do not respond to course resources.
Insight and originality to help create dialogue	Posts were thoughtful and interesting.	Posts showed evidence of original thinking.	Posts echoed other points or expressed general agreement/disagreement.

Individual participation assessments will be posted after each module. Participation scores for each module will be weighted evenly. Combined they will account for 25% of your course grade. During the module for which your group leads the discussion, you will not be assessed on your individual response to prompts, but instead will be assessed on how your group leads and monitors the discussion (see next section).

Discussion-leading Project (20%)

During the first week of class, you will be randomly assigned to a group of students who will lead the class discussion for one of the two-week modules during the semester. Your job is as follows.

- Connect with your group on Canvas using the “Groups” function by September 8. (Groups will be randomly assigned by end of drop-add.)
- Read the assigned readings for your assigned weeks as soon as you get a chance.
- Develop two discussion prompts (one for each chapter) and provide related case articles or videos that you find to use as springboards for discussion.
- E-mail your group’s two prompts to the instructor by Thursday prior to the week your module starts. Monitor and lead the class discussion between Monday of the first week and Wednesday of the second week. You must post and comment on your own prompts that week as well.
- Write and edit a synopsis (about two pages for each prompt) and email it to the instructor by 5 p.m. on Friday of the second week. One synopsis will be submitted by the group.
- Complete a confidential peer discussion rubric for each of your group members, and submit your evaluations document directly to the assignment page. Each group member will do his or her own individual peer evaluations.

Task	Due Date
Connect with your group on Canvas and identify your assigned module using the “Groups” function.	September 8
Read the chapters for your week. Choose appropriate cases/examples for discussion.	At least one week before your discussion
E-mail discussion questions to instructor.	Thursday of the week before your discussion
Moderate/lead the online discussions.	Normally Monday of first week through Wednesday of second week. Discussion closes at 5 p.m. on second Wednesday so you can start writing synopses and conducting peer evals. (Dates are slightly adjusted on weeks with holidays – see calendar.)

Submit synopsis to instructor (instructor will edit if needed and post the following week).	5 p.m. Friday of second week
Submit completed peer discussion rubrics.	5 p.m. Monday the week after your module ends

Quizzes (20%)

Quizzes will cover each module’s assigned readings and lectures. Quizzes may include multiple-choice, short-answer and matching questions. The idea is to motivate you to keep up with the reading and lectures. You will have only one opportunity to take each quiz during the specified module time period. Please see the timeline below and the schedule on Canvas.

Each quiz will have a time limit (25 minutes). You can take the quiz any time between the opening of the module on Monday of the first week and 5 p.m. on Friday of the second week of the module, but you will have only 25 minutes to complete the quiz once you start. The idea behind the time limit is for you to prepare by organizing your knowledge of the course material in such a way that you can confidently answer questions quickly and accurately. Although there's no rule against using your notes and books, those who have mastered the material likely will perform MUCH better than those who try to look everything up as they go.

Taking each quiz must be an individual effort.

Quiz Schedule

Quiz 1	Open Aug. 31 to Sept. 11 at 5 p.m.
Quiz 2	Open Sept. 14 to Sept. 25 at 5 p.m.
Quiz 3	Open Sept. 28 to Oct. 9 at 5 p.m.
Quiz 4	Open Oct. 12 to Oct. 23 at 5 p.m.
Quiz 5	Open Oct. 26 to Nov. 6 at 5 p.m.
Quiz 6	Open Nov. 9 to Nov. 20 at 5 p.m.
Quiz 7	Open Nov. 23 to Dec. 4 at 5 p.m.

*Please note holidays. Although quizzes will remain open through the times listed, I encourage you to plan to complete them before the breaks so that you can enjoy the time off!

Analysis Paper (30%)

For the analysis paper, your assignment will be to identify a case in media ethics in which you would have acted differently than the media practitioner(s) at the center of it. The paper should be organized in a way that makes clear how you will answer the six major questions from Doing Ethics in Media:

1. What’s your problem? Briefly describe the case. (You may attach a published blog, article, case study, or news story as a link or as an appendix for background.) Spell out what makes this situation a moral dilemma. Leave yourself with a clearly stated question to be answered.

- 2. Why not follow the rules? Are there some precedents, guidelines, codes, or laws you should keep in mind? If so, are there reasons your dilemma can't be resolved by them?
- 3. Who wins, who loses? Who are the stakeholders, and what impact is your decision likely to have on each of them in the short term and in the long term?
- 4. What's it worth? Prioritize your values—both moral and non-moral values—and decide on which one(s) you won't compromise.
- 5. Who's whispering in your ear? In general—and specifically in this case—which school of philosophy or set of moral principles provides you with a moral compass?
- 6. How's your decision going to look? State your conclusion, and imagine what your friends and people you respect will think about your decision-making. As a guideline for length, each section of the paper should be about 1-2 pages double-spaced, for a total length of about 6-12 pages. I recommend thinking of your paper topic near the beginning of the semester so that you can think through the questions as they come up for discussion during the semester. You might then be able to draft sections of the paper as we go.

Rough draft and peer review: After you submit your draft paper, you will be assigned three peer reviews to complete. Draft papers are due at Tuesday, Nov. 24 at 5:00 p.m. At that time, Canvas will automatically assign each paper three peer reviewers (and each reviewer will be assigned three papers). If you miss the deadline, even by a few minutes, you will not be included in that process since the number of papers reviewed and the number of reviewers is exactly equal to the number of papers submitted at 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 24.

Of course, the more developed your draft is on that Friday, the better, but I strongly recommend you submit whatever draft you have at that time in any case. If you don't make the 5:00 p.m. deadline, there will be no option to submit late. Submission of your draft paper will count toward your Other Participation grade.

Please see the paper assignment on Canvas for the full grading rubric. Your final paper will be checked for plagiarism or improper attribution.

Other Participation (5%)

This includes assignments that will be tracked as complete/incomplete/late. Meeting deadlines and quality of effort are important here to keep the course running smoothly. For each one of these missed, one percentage point will deducted. For example, if you miss turning in your paper topic by Nov. 17, but complete everything else well and on time, you would earn 4 participation points instead of 5.

- Update Canvas profile by 9/8
- Ethical analysis paper topic due 11/17
- Rough draft of ethical analysis paper due Tuesday, 11/24 at 5:00 p.m.
- Peer reviews of paper drafts due Monday, 11/30 at 5:00 p.m.

FINAL PAPER DUE 12/7

Extra Credit for Participation in Research Studies

A maximum of two (2) extra credit points (equivalent of 2%) will be offered for research participation through CJC's SONA research system (<https://ufl-cjc.sona-systems.com>).

Please register a SONA account and choose studies to participate in to receive extra credit for this class. Check SONA regularly to see what studies have become available. Typically, studies won't become available until around about the third week of the semester. You should NOT wait until the last minute to sign up for participation because research opportunities may be limited by the end of the semester. In fact, it is probably wise to participate early in the semester when your course loads are the lightest. Please see this video on how to set up your SONA account: https://youtu.be/_1OnT2ZU6QQ.

If you have any questions, please contact the CJC SONA administrator through this email: uf-cjc-sonasystems@jou.ufl.edu.
