Course Grading Policies

Grading Criterion, Late Assignment Policy, and Expectations for Assignments

GRADING CRITERION

Project: Final Strategic Campaign Plan and Presentation to C-Suite (Total 30%)

Students will research, develop, and write a strategic communications plan for a public relations campaign. Students will choose a non-profit organization, government, or corporation and propose a campaign to promote a product, service, or mission. Strategic methods, thinking and approaches are taught during the course, and students are expected to develop their plan based on lessons learned in the class. The final plan includes a video presentation to the organization's executive suite (C-suite) or a client.

First Drafts: Strategic Campaign Plan Proposal, Parts 1 and 2 (Proposal – 5%, Parts 1 and 2 – 15%)

This semester-long project is broken down into five stages of development. The goal is to create a final strategic PR plan. Two of the steps (parts 1 and 2) require writing a draft for which the instructor will provide areas for growth and improvement. Students are expected to implement the feedback received into their final strategic PR plan. The stages of development include:

- Proposal
- Part 1 first draft: Summary, goals, measurable objectives, and opportunities and challenges
- Messaging (see writing assignments)
- Part 2 first draft: Target audience analysis, strategy, tactics, and evaluation
- Final strategic plan and video (Zoom) presentation to CEO / client

Writing Assignments (Total 25%)

Your writing assignments should complement the strategic plan that you are creating. These are your strategic plan's accompanying materials. Incorporate best practices learned in the course when developing these assignments. Grades are based on strategic foundation; creativity and readability; use of key messaging; attracting your target demo; and writing (grammar, spelling, typos).

There are three writing assignments during the semester:

1. Messaging.
2. Internet and social media kit.
3. Mass media kit.

First Drafts: Writing Assignments (Total 15%)

Each writing assignment follows a process, broken down into 3 stages of development: First draft; peer review; and final assignment.

- First draft: Submit to assigned classmate for peer review on Canvas.
- Peer Review (see peer review below).
- Final Assignment: Review and use your discretion when implementing the feedback you received from your peer and instructor prior to creating your final assignment.

Peer Review of Writing Assignments (Total 10%)

Quality content is imperative in the field of public relations. We are communicators, and many of the relationships we build are through our content creation. Reviewing others' work and receiving feedback helps to ensure that content is of the highest quality. In the classroom, acting as a peer reviewer also provides an opportunity to read others work and learn from your peers.

You are assigned to review the writing assignments for this course, which include:

1. Messaging.
2. Internet and social media kit
3. Mass media kit

Students should provide classmates with thorough feedback on writing and syntax (grammar, spelling, typos), audience-focused content, and use of key messaging. Reviewers are also expected to exhibit a high level of professionalism when providing feedback to their peers.

Expectations for Writing Assignments: Writing Style

In order to meet the academic rigor and standards of a graduate program, all students are required to use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition style in their courses. The APA 7th Edition Manual has a plethora of guidelines that includes scholarly writing, publishing principles, elements and format for your papers, writing style and grammar, bias-free language guidelines, mechanics of style, intext citing and references, etc. For additional information on notable changes, see changes between APA 6th Edition and APA 7th Edition.

Your grade will be calculated based on the following:

The only passing grades for graduate students are A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, and S. Grades of B-, C+ or C count toward a graduate degree if an equal number of credits in courses numbered 5000 or higher have been earned with grades of B+, A- and A, respectively. Grade points are not given for S and U grades; S and U grades are not used to calculate grade point averages. All letter-graded courses eligible to count toward the graduate degree, except 1000- and 2000-level courses, are used to calculate the cumulative grade-point average. Letter grades of C-, D+, D, D- or E are not considered passing at the graduate level, although the grade points associated with these letter grades are included in grade point average calculations. See the UF grading policy for more information.

LATE ASSIGNMENT POLICY

Late assignments will not be accepted unless it is a University excused absence as stated in the attendance policies. No late work will be accepted for final projects or work due in the final week of class due to the university grading deadlines. If potential issues arise concerning submitting final work, students should contact their instructors before deadlines to discuss the possibility of an Incomplete Grade Contract.

1. Late Assignment Grade Reductions
 - a. 0-24 Hours Late: 10% reduction in grade.
 - b. Over 24 Hours (24 hours and 1 minute) to 7 Calendar Days Late: 20% reduction in grade.
 - c. After the 7th Calendar Day: Work will not be accepted.
2. Late Discussions will not be accepted.

Select CJC and University Policies and Guidelines

Academic Integrity Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code." The Student Honor Code, Violation of the Student Honor Code, specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to the appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TA's in this class.

Netiquette

Casual style of communication is commonly found in the online environment and students are sometimes tempted to relax their grammar, word choice, syntax (arrangement of words to create well-formed sentences), writing mechanics (capitalization, punctuation, and spelling), and/or professionalism. Keep in mind when communicating with others to be courteous, civil, respectful, and professional. Please remember that you are adult students and professionals—your communication must be appropriate.

Online Attendance Policy

Since the course is online, you should access your course at least four times per week to ensure you do not miss pertinent postings, messages, or announcements. It is imperative that you meet course deadlines and stay active in discussion boards, group projects, etc. If you are experiencing a major illness, absences due to University duties, or other large-scale issues, contact the instructor immediately.

Students are responsible for meeting all academic objectives as defined by the instructor. In general, acceptable reasons for absences include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements, military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official University activities. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog and require appropriate documentation. For additional information, see the attendance policies.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is unacceptable; especially, in the academic communities. All academic work must be an original work of your own thought, research, or self-expression. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, prohibited collaboration, consultation, submission of academic work that has been purchased or obtained (see the UF Policy: Student Conduct Violation). Remember that plagiarism is not acceptable in any of your work including all discussion board posts, journal entries, wikis, and other written and oral presentation assignments. Always cite your sources!

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Notification to Students of FERPA Rights

There are federal laws (FERPA) protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments.
