WHAT YOU WILL DO IN THIS COURSE: In addition to the course readings, weekly quizzes, and exams, you will submit a series of assignments that build upon a proposed strategic campaign that will be revised throughout the semester and turned in at the end. This will require high-level, strategic critical thinking skills.

COURSE COMMUNICATIONS: Please note that I'm located in Seattle, Washington (three hours behind Gainesville on PST).

If you have any questions about the course or your assignments, please email or call me. I will respond to you within 36 hours during the week and 48 hours on the weekend. Please follow up if you do not receive a response within this window. If you request a lengthy answer, please send me your phone number and I will call you. Therefore, barring an emergency situation, it is advisable to contact the instructor well in advance of an exam or a deadline in order to give the professor adequate time to respond you. Feel free to set up an appointment to speak with me anytime about the course.

If you notice yourself having trouble in the course, it is crucial that you speak with me immediately.

I will schedule some office hours once we get into the final project. We will also schedule some group/one-on-one meetings to discuss your final project.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK AND READINGS:

Smith, R. D. (2017). Strategic planning for public relations (5th ed.). New York: Routledge.

Additional readings can be found in the class schedule.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: The development of skills in strategic public relations management based on an analysis of current and historical case studies.

PREREQUISITES: PUR 3000 Principles and PUR 3500 Research with minimum grades of C.

COURSE OBJECTIVES & LEARNING OUTCOMES: In addition to the below course objectives, this course also tests your critical thinking and problem solving skills. “Big picture” thinking is an important skill in the PR profession. As a result of the course, students should be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the purpose of public relations and its strategic process, including a consideration of ethics and professionalism.
- Identify and explain the concepts and theories on which strategic public relations is based.
- Apply the knowledge and experience gained in this course as well as that from course prerequisites to the development of an experiential learning project for a client organization, which should become part of students’ professional portfolios.
- Write and formulate fundamental components of a public relations strategic plan, including situation analysis, objectives, and selection of strategies and tactics.
- Define publics appropriate for specific client organizations and appreciate differences that affect programming.
- Recognize the importance of primary and secondary research in public relations practice.
- Demonstrate understanding of conceptual foundation and professional skills competency related to strategic management process of the public relations function.
- Demonstrate proficiency in written and oral communications.

The course specifically supports seven of the 11 professional values and competencies required of graduates by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC):

- Demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of groups in a global society in relationship to public relations.
- Understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information.
- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles, and work ethically.
- Think critically, creatively and independently.
- Conduct research and evaluate information by appropriate methods.
- Write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the public relations profession.
- Apply basic numerical and statistical concepts.

COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM AND MASS COMMUNICATIONS OBJECTIVES

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications requires that by graduation all students should be able to:

- understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press for the US
- demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications;
- demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society;
- understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information;
- demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- think critically, creatively and independently;
- conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- apply current tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work, and to understand the digital world.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS: This is an online course. You must have access to a computer, the Internet, a WORKING email address, and Canvas. You should also have the ability to open PDF documents, PowerPoint, and YouTube videos. The textbook is required for this course. Attendance is evaluated by your timely submission of work. When we are not in class, you should expect to spend a minimum of 15 hours on this course per week. If you have any questions throughout the course, please do not hesitate to ask. I am here to help you in any way I can.

COURSE POLICIES:

Everything you need in this course can be found on Canvas. All assignments, PowerPoints, tests, and quizzes will be accessed through Canvas. In this course, you are responsible for your learning and time management. The deadline assignments are firm. Canvas is rarely down and that is the only exception to the rule. You need to prepare and allow time for “technical difficulties.” However, if you start a quiz and it doesn’t complete due to some computer issue, it will show me. Do not panic! Please email me and I will reset your quiz/assignment. It may take a little time so please be patient.

Each chapter will consist of reading materials, an online instructional video, and objectives. Chapters may also include video clips, quizzes, and case studies. Online classroom time will consist of lectures, video clips, in-class and out-of-class assignments, and small group projects. Readings in addition to the textbook will also be distributed during the course.

You are also required to follow the Online Etiquette document.

ATTENDANCE POLICY: Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>.”

COURSE TECHNOLOGY: If you have any issues with the course technology, please contact the UF Help Desk at:

- <http://helpdesk.ufl.edu>
- (352) 392-HELP - select option 2

ONLINE COURSE EVALUATION: Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Click here for guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via ufl.bluera.com/ufl/.

Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students here.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.”

COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM AND COMMUNICATIONS OBJECTIVES

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications requires that by graduation all students should be able to:

- apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, in a global context, and for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located;
- demonstrate an understanding of the multicultural history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- demonstrate culturally proficient communication that empowers those traditionally disenfranchised in society, especially as grounded in race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation and ability, domestically and globally, across communication and media contexts;
- present images and information effectively and creatively, using appropriate tools and technologies;
- write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;

- apply critical thinking skills in conducting research and evaluating information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- effectively and correctly apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work”

UF POLICIES:

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACCOMMODATING STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES: “Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT: UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Additional Information: Academic dishonesty is a serious offense that not only comprises your personal integrity, but the integrity of University of Florida and your fellow classmates. Academic dishonesty includes plagiarism, cheating during exams, use of unauthorized study aids, and falsifying any university document. Any offense will be taken extremely seriously, and ignorance of the policies is not an excuse.

Therefore, all assignments using sources must be documented both in-text and in a bibliography using APA style. If you are not sure if something constitutes violation of academic dishonesty, please ask me. COPYING (OR CUT AND PASTING) ANY MATERIAL

FROM A WEBSITE CONSTITUTES PLAGIARISM. YOU MUST CREDIT ALL SOURCES OR YOUR TEXTBOOK. Please note that if you copy large chunks of material word for word even with a citation and direct quotes, that this is unacceptable.

I do not tolerate plagiarism. If you plagiarize in any way, you will receive a zero for the entire course, and turned into the Office of Student Conduct.

All assignments will be turned in via Turnitin.com.

Do not submit the same work to more than one class without prior written permission from both instructors. Do not adapt work from another class for this class without my prior written permission. Do not adapt someone else's work and submit it as your own. This course requires original work, created at this time, for this purpose.

CLASS DEMEANOR OR NETIQUETTE: All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions and chats. Please make sure you read carefully the Netiquette Document on the UF site. One of the challenges of online instruction is that we can't see each other and we miss the face-to-face interaction. Please remember, there are individuals on the other end, both when speaking to your classmates and professor.

RECORDING LECTURES AND PUBLISHING MATERIALS: Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A "class lecture" is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To "publish" means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

GRADING POLICIES AND COURSE SUBMISSIONS:

GRADING: Be responsible for the grade you earn in this class. Feel free to talk to me anytime if you want to discuss your progress in this class. The grading is as follows:

Examinations (2)	(40%)
Assignments	(15%)
Individual/Group Project	(25%)
Quizzes	(20%)
	(100%)

SUBMISSIONS: All out-of-class assignments and the final project must be typed. Assignments should be single-spaced, neat, with appropriate headers. These assignments should be geared toward a working professional, rather than an academic course.

FEEDBACK: You will each receive individual feedback on your assignments. Please note that I do not give you guides or extensive feedback before about how to do the assignment. When you are in the workplace, you won't receive this either. Rather, you should do the best you can do and then I will give feedback following the assignment. I do this intentionally so as not to limit (and many times in the workplace you have to create plans on your own rather than using a template). I caution you about using others' plans as an example from previous classes. Additionally, your instructor will post video guides and video feedback to the entire class. My feedback is more concerned with how to improve your work rather than what you did really well so if the feedback is fairly negative, please don't take it personally.

DEADLINES AND POLICIES:

ALL ASSIGNMENTS ARE DUE ON THE THURSDAY OF THE DESIGNATED WEEK BY 11:59 P.M.—NO EXCEPTIONS!

Example: (Due: July 15 at 11:59 p.m. is one minute before July 16).

You must use proper grammar and spell correctly in both the emails you send to me and in the papers you write. I know this is not an English class, but poor grammar and spelling errors indicate you did not spend enough time editing your paper and unfortunately, reflects poorly upon you. So please make sure you are aware of this, and pay close attention to your writing in a university and business setting.

Everything submitted should be should be single-spaced with a max 1.25 spacing with headers (if applicable). Please use normal margins. The grading rubrics can be found in Canvas.

ASSIGNMENTS (15%): All assignments are with your partner (if you have one) and they are structured to help you with your final project. You will be expected to incorporate feedback from the assignments into your final project. When you upload your assignment if you are working with a partner, please make sure to include their names. One assignment should be uploaded per group. Also, it is the responsibility of the submitter to share the feedback from the instructor (this should auto share).

All assignments will be turned in using Turnitin in Canvas.

Please watch the video that outlines each assignment and the strategic plan guidelines describes the individual sections that are due based on the assignment deadlines in the calendar.

Assignments deadlines are rigid. Assignments cannot be turned in late so please account for technical issues and such. Assignments should all be done in Microsoft Word, not uploaded as a PDF, pages, txt, or works. The uploaded files should be named "last name.assignment name." The assignments will count as 20% of your Project grade.

All assignments must include citations as footnotes (must be thorough) or APA style, both in-text and at the end. Please see the final project guide and syllabus for your due dates and directions.

FINAL PROJECT (25%): See supplementary project sheet for details of your final assignment.

QUIZZES (20%): Weekly quizzes will be given after each chapter. You will have 10 minutes to complete each quiz. For most weeks (please see syllabus for any changes), quizzes will open at 12:01 on Sundays of each week that you have a chapter reading, and you will have until Friday, 11:59 p.m. to complete the quizzes. You also have to take a Syllabus quiz that can be taken as many times as you want. See calendar for due date.

GRADING RUBRIC: CAN BE FOUND IN THE INTRODUCTION SECTION OF THE ONLINE COURSE

EXAMINATIONS (40%): There are two exam dates – the final exam is not cumulative. THERE ARE NO MAKE-UP EXAMINATIONS – If you miss an exam, you will receive a grade of zero. Generally, the exams are a combination of essay and multiple-choice questions. Exams will have time limits. For both exams, the PowerPoints and book chapters will be on the test – also any supplementary materials discussed may be as well. Both tests are 50 multiple-choice or true/false questions and you have 1 hour and 15 minutes to complete the test.

Tests will be given through HonorLock (see guidelines under this section). You cannot access ANY materials (textbook, internet, notes, etc.) while you are taking the test.

Exams are open during a 72-hour window that starts at 12:01 am will close at 11:59 p.m. (last time to schedule is at 9:30 p.m.). You can only take it once (no repeats) and there are absolutely no make-ups so plan accordingly. If you have any technical difficulties, please contact the ProctorU technical support.
