Course Description & Prerequisites

This course synthesizes two complementary tools of communication: graphic design and assembly (both print and electronic). The students will learn the fundamental design principles and techniques for effective visual communication. These principles and techniques are applied through projects to achieve a communication objective across different platforms. Students can expect a practical, hands-on experience. A key tool for creating your digital work in this course is Adobe Illustrator. Illustrator is an effective tool for creating original artwork and for designing logos, banners, icons, and navigational elements for online and print formats. The artwork can then easily be exported to the Web or imported into other programs.

Course Grading Policies Grading Criterion, Late Assignment Policy, and Expectations for Assignments

GRADING CRITERION

Weekly Design Challenges (Total 40%)

Students will complete weekly design challenge assignments in accordance with each module. These assignments are intended to reinforce and blend both theoretical and technical skills covered each week. For the most part, they will be completed in Adobe Illustrator. Topics and prompts will vary according to the material presented in each module. Students may be asked to perform a certain Illustrator task and/or demonstrate understanding of theoretical concepts (types of logos, typography, color, hierarchy, etc.).

Unless otherwise noted, students will upload their completed work in PDF and AI formats to the appropriate assignment on Canvas. Design challenges will become available on Canvas on Wednesdays at 6 PM and are due the following Tuesday at 11:59 PM.

Students will not be assigned a new design challenge during critique weeks or holidays. Design challenges are available on Canvas under Assignments and linked within each module.

Quizzes (Total 20%)

Students are expected to complete a five-question quiz in accordance with selected modules. Questions will cover material from the module including lectures, readings, and supplemental material. Topics will include both design theory and technical skills.

Quizzes will become available on Canvas on Wednesdays at 6 PM and are due the following Tuesday at 11:59 PM.

Please note that there are several different ways to complete tasks in Illustrator. To ensure fairness, all skills-related questions will utilize methods discussed in class.

Students will not be assigned a new quiz during critique weeks or holidays. Quizzes are available on Canvas in the Assignments section, the Quizzes section, and linked within each module.

Projects (Total 30%)

In the mid-semester project, students will begin to demonstrate their understanding of working with client needs and requests. Students will be allowed to choose one of three instructor-provided clients. They should expect to provide three distinctly different logo design concepts for their chosen client. Detailed requirements of this assignment will be available on Canvas.

In the final project, students will demonstrate their mastery of design concepts and Illustrator techniques. Students will be asked to create a complete visual identity system for an instructor-provided client. Detailed requirements of this assignment will be available on Canvas.

Critiques (Total 10%)

It is important to learn how to give and receive feedback. As part of the projects, students will participate in a design critique before submitting their assignment for a final grade.

As part of this, students will give a five-minute presentation of their progress on the project in live class. During this time, students will receive feedback from their peers on their design. Students are encouraged to ask questions, present multiple options, etc. so that they may benefit from the process as much as possible. This gives students the opportunity to receive peer-to-peer feedback on their projects before submitting them for a grade.

Assignments do not need to be fully complete before a design critique, and students are allowed (if not encouraged) to make changes-based feedback provided during their presentation before submitting for a grade.

Students will be graded on participation only. Participation includes both presenting work and providing feedback to peers.

Your grade will be calculated based on the following:

The only passing grades for graduate students are A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, and S. Grades of B-, C+ or C count toward a graduate degree if an equal number of credits in courses numbered 5000 or higher have been earned with grades of B+, A- and A, respectively. Grade points are not given for S and U grades; S and U grades are not used to calculate grade point averages. All letter-graded courses eligible to count toward the graduate degree, except 1000- and 2000-level courses, are used to calculate the cumulative grade-point average. Letter grades of C-, D+, D, D- or E are not considered passing at the graduate level, although the grade points associated with these letter grades are included in grade point average calculations. See the UF grading policy for more information.

LATE ASSIGNMENT POLICY

Late assignments will not be accepted unless it is a University excused absence as stated in the attendance policies. No late work will be accepted for final projects or work due in the final week of class due to the university grading deadlines. If potential issues arise concerning submitting final work, students should contact their instructors before deadlines to discuss the possibility of an Incomplete Grade Contract.

1. Late Assignment Grade Reductions
 - a. 0-24 Hours Late: 10% reduction in grade.
 - b. Over 24 Hours (24 hours and 1 minute) to 7 Calendar Days Late: 20% reduction in grade.
 - c. After the 7th Calendar Day: Work will not be accepted.
2. Late Discussions will not be accepted.

Select CJC and University Policies and Guidelines

Academic Integrity Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code." The Student Honor Code, Violation of the Student Honor Code, specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to the appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TA's in this class.

Netiquette

Casual style of communication is commonly found in the online environment and students are sometimes tempted to relax their grammar, word choice, syntax (arrangement of words to create well-formed sentences), writing mechanics (capitalization, punctuation, and spelling), and/or professionalism. Keep in mind when communicating with others to be courteous, civil, respectful, and professional. Please remember that you are adult students and professionals—your communication must be appropriate.

Online Attendance Policy

Since the course is online, you should access your course at least four times per week to ensure you do not miss pertinent postings, messages, or announcements. It is imperative that you meet course deadlines and stay active in discussion boards, group projects, etc. If you are experiencing a major illness, absences due to University duties, or other large-scale issues, contact the instructor immediately.

Students are responsible for meeting all academic objectives as defined by the instructor. In general, acceptable reasons for absences include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements, military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official University activities. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog and require appropriate documentation. For additional information, see the attendance policies.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is unacceptable; especially, in the academic communities. All academic work must be an original work of your own thought, research, or self-expression. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, prohibited collaboration, consultation, submission of academic work that has been purchased or obtained (see the UF Policy: Student Conduct Violation). Remember that plagiarism is not acceptable in any of your work including all discussion board posts, journal entries, wikis, and other written and oral presentation assignments. Always cite your sources!

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Notification to Students of FERPA Rights

There are federal laws (FERPA) protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments.

Student Guidelines for Courseroom Challenges

Student with questions regarding course content such as assignments, assessments, instructional materials, lectures, meetings, course objectives, course module objectives, or other areas of the course, please adhere to the following guidelines:

1. You should first approach the faculty member who is teaching the course to ask for clarifications regarding the course assignments, assessments, materials, lectures, meetings, etc.
 - i) In the Course Orientation Module, you will find the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) page which has been placed there for the purpose of addressing course questions, issues, and challenges.

2. If after meeting with the faculty member teaching the course you are still not clear on the course assignments, assessments, materials, lectures, meetings, etc., then the next step would be to contact online advising (onlineadvising@jou.ufl.edu) for additional guidance.

Video Conferencing Etiquette

Video conferencing is an excellent tool to interface with your peers and instructor(s) and there are also netiquette expectations to ensure that all participants are respected and treated with civility. Please make sure that you follow all of the netiquette and etiquette expectations including the following:

1. Be punctual and courteous.
2. Position your camera at eye level with good lighting.
3. Show respect and professionalism by dressing business casual or business professional.
4. Make sure your background is in a proper setting with minimal distractions.
5. Mute your microphone when you are not speaking.

Writing Style

In order to meet the academic rigor and standards of a graduate program, all students are required to use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition style in their courses. The APA 7th Edition Manual has a plethora of guidelines that includes scholarly writing, publishing principles, elements and format for your papers, writing style and grammar, bias-free language guidelines, mechanics of style, intext citing and references, etc. For additional information on notable changes, see changes between APA 6th Edition and APA 7th Edition.
