Course Grading Policies

Grading Criterion, Late Assignment Policy, and Expectations for Assignments

GRADING CRITERION

Discussion Boards (25%)

Throughout the semester, you will be required to complete a total of 10 Discussion Posts as prompted. Your initial post must be a substantive and scholarly submission. You must reply to at least one other student's posts with a substantive and scholarly response. A substantive response adds scholarly value to the discussion by bringing new ideas, research, evidence, etc. to the conversation. Responses such as "I agree," "Ditto," etc., are not acceptable replies and the rules of Netiquette must be followed. Replies are not texts with friends and proper rules of writing must be applied including citations and references (do not plagiarize).

Unless otherwise noted, initial posts for each module discussion board must be submitted by Thursdays at 11:59 PM, ET, so your peers have time to respond to your initial post. Responses to peers are due by Sundays at 11:59 PM, ET. To view the grading criteria rubric for the discussions in the course room, click the Settings icon (the 3 dots on the top-right corner) and select the Show Rubric button.

Course Assignments (40%)

Throughout the semester, you will be required to complete a total of 6 course assignments related to the corresponding lecture topics. Specific assignment formats and instructions vary week to week, though students can expect all of the required submissions to be in either written, short-answer form or displayed as a data visual in Excel/Sheets or PowerPoint.

Individual assignment instructions can be found in Canvas under the "Assignment" tab. Assignments submitted in visual or presentation form, will be scored against these three criteria:

- Accuracy: All data is represented accurately with no mistakes. All labels and numbers are correct, and all statements reflect accurate interpretation of the data (50 points).
- Critical analysis: Student shows comprehension and mastery of the content. Answers display a deep understanding of the learnings (30 points).
- Clarity and organization: Submission is free of spelling or grammar errors, and is presented in a efficient manner. Work is clear and effective manner with all necessary elements properly labeled, formatted, and showcased in a visually appealing manner (20 points).

Assignments submitted in written, short-answer form will be scored against these four criteria:

- Accuracy: Student correctly answers the question without leaving room for interpretation (40 points).
- Critical analysis: Student shows comprehension and mastery of the content. Answers display a deep understanding of the learnings. (30 points).
- Logic and organization: Student shows well developed ideas and presents their thoughts in a logical flow. The answer is clear, comprehensive, and convincing. (20 points).
- Spelling and grammar: Submission is free of spelling or grammar errors, and is presented in an efficient manner (10 points).

Mid Semester Project (Total 15%)

The mid-semester project will be representative of everything we cover in the first half of the course. For this project, you will be asked to use a provided dataset to create a social media campaign report in Excel or Google Sheets, that adheres to the provided instructions. For complete instructions, go to the "Assignments" tab in the Canvas course site.

The mid-semester project is an individual assignment, and will be scored against these four criteria:

- Accuracy: All data is represented accurately with no mistakes. All labels and numbers are correct, and all statements reflect accurate interpretation of the data (40 points).
- Critical analysis: Does the student presents the data in a manner that is helpful in addressing potential questions a client might have? Does the student display critical thinking by diving into the "how" or "why" behind data performance? Does the student provide actionable "insights," learnings, and recommendations? (30 points).
- Quality and organization of content: Is the report well organized? Does the flow and order of the information make logical sense? Does the student show the correct dimensions and data cuts? (20 points).
- Creativity: Is the report visually appealing and cohesive, displaying the information in a meaningful and easy-to-understand manner? Do the chosen visuals aid in the understanding of the information? Is there a consistent theme and overall look-and-feel throughout the report? (10 points).

Final Project (Total 20%)

The final project asks students to apply their learnings from throughout the course, to deliver a campaign wrap up and presentation. Students will work to demonstrate mastery of course materials by delivering and presenting a campaign wrap report in PowerPoint format, including final performance metrics, observations, insights, and strategic recommendations. Students will be given a data set and asked to utilize learned skills to navigate Excel/Google Sheets, create data-informed visuals, interpret results and present findings as they would to real-life stakeholders and clients, through a recorded video.

For complete instructions, go to the “Assignments” tab in the Canvas course site. The final project is an individual assignment, and will be scored against these five criteria:

- Accuracy: The findings presented are consistent with the data provided. The student accurately manipulated the data and resulted in correct information (25 points).
- Critical analysis: The student displays critical thinking and dives into the reasons behind campaign performance. The student considers the questions that clients may ask and addresses those in the presentation. (25 points).
- Quality and organization of content: Student shows well developed ideas and presents their thoughts in a logical flow. The report is clear, comprehensive, and convincing and includes supportive materials such as external references or visuals (20 points).
- Creativity: The report is visually appealing and cohesive. All elements are chosen carefully, and is efficient at displaying information. Slides display sufficient information, and are clean and easy to read (10 points).
- Presentation skills: The student presents a well compiled report with thoughtful commentary. There is confidence in his/her communication and the presentation flows well. The student is able to answer questions thoughtfully and address concerns and comments (20 points).

Expectations for Writing Assignments: Writing Style

In order to meet the academic rigor and standards of a graduate program, all students are required to use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition style in their courses. The APA 7th Edition Manual has a plethora of guidelines that includes scholarly writing, publishing principles, elements and format for your papers, writing style and grammar, bias-free language guidelines, mechanics of style, intext citing and references, etc. For additional information on notable changes, see changes between APA 6th Edition and APA 7th Edition.

Your grade will be calculated based on the following:

Assignments/Assessments	Points	Weight (%)

The only passing grades for graduate students are A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, and S. Grades of B-, C+ or C count toward a graduate degree if an equal number of credits in courses numbered 5000 or higher have been earned with grades of B+, A- and A, respectively. Grade points are not given for S and U grades; S and U grades are not used to calculate grade point averages. All letter-graded courses eligible to count toward the graduate degree, except 1000- and 2000-level courses, are used to calculate the cumulative grade-point average. Letter grades of C-, D+, D, D- or E are not considered passing at the graduate level, although the grade points associated with these letter grades are included in grade point average calculations. See the UF grading policy for more information.

LATE ASSIGNMENT POLICY

Late assignments will not be accepted unless it is a University excused absence as stated in the attendance policies. No late work will be accepted for final projects or work due in the final week of class due to the university grading deadlines. If potential issues arise concerning submitting final work, students should contact their instructors before deadlines to discuss the possibility of an Incomplete Grade Contract.

1. Late Assignment Grade Reductions
 - a. 0-24 Hours Late: 10% reduction in grade.
 - b. Over 24 Hours (24 hours and 1 minute) to 7 Calendar Days Late: 20% reduction in grade.
 - c. After the 7th Calendar Day: Work will not be accepted.
2. Late Discussions will not be accepted.

Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. Please see UF's Information Technology policies for additional information.

Video Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A "class lecture" is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To "publish" means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Select CJC and University Policies and Guidelines

Academic Integrity Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code.” The Student Honor Code, Violation of the Student Honor Code, specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to the appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TA’s in this class.

Netiquette

Casual style of communication is commonly found in the online environment and students are sometimes tempted to relax their grammar, word choice, syntax (arrangement of words to create well-formed sentences), writing mechanics (capitalization, punctuation, and spelling), and/or professionalism. Keep in mind when communicating with others to be courteous, civil, respectful, and professional. Please remember that you are adult students and professionals—your communication must be appropriate.

Online Attendance Policy

Since the course is online, you should access your course at least four times per week to ensure you do not miss pertinent postings, messages, or announcements. It is imperative that you meet course deadlines and stay active in discussion boards, group projects, etc. If you are experiencing a major illness, absences due to University duties, or other large-scale issues, contact the instructor immediately.

Students are responsible for meeting all academic objectives as defined by the instructor. In general, acceptable reasons for absences include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements, military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official University activities. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog and require appropriate documentation. For additional information, see the attendance policies.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is unacceptable; especially, in the academic communities. All academic work must be an original work of your own thought, research, or self-expression. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, prohibited collaboration, consultation, submission of academic work that has been purchased or obtained (see the UF Policy: Student Conduct Violation). Remember that plagiarism is not acceptable in any of your work including all discussion board posts, journal entries, wikis, and other written and oral presentation assignments. Always cite your sources!

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Notification to Students of FERPA Rights

There are federal laws (FERPA) protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments.

Student Guidelines for Courseroom Challenges

2. If after meeting with the faculty member teaching the course you are still not clear on the course assignments, assessments, materials, lectures, meetings, etc., then the next step would be to contact online advising (onlineadvising@jou.ufl.edu) for additional guidance.

Video Conferencing Etiquette

Video conferencing is an excellent tool to interface with your peers and instructor(s) and there are also netiquette expectations to ensure that all participants are respected and treated with civility. Please make sure that you follow all of the netiquette and etiquette expectations including the following:

1. Be punctual and courteous.
2. Position your camera at eye level with good lighting.
3. Show respect and professionalism by dressing business casual or business professional.
4. No smoking or drinking alcoholic drinks.
5. Make sure your background is in a proper setting with minimal distractions.
6. Mute your microphone when you are not speaking.

Writing Style

In order to meet the academic rigor and standards of a graduate program, all students are required to use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition style in their courses. APA is the writing style used in business and other disciplines for both professional and academic writing. The APA 7th Edition Manual has a plethora of guidelines that includes scholarly writing, publishing principles, elements and format for your papers, writing style and grammar, bias-free language guidelines, mechanics of style, intext citing and references, etc. For additional information on notable changes, see changes between APA 6th Edition and APA 7th Edition.
