Course Description and Prerequisites

Course Description:

Corporate messaging, branding, news and information, even self-published stories and opinions are more visible, shareable and potentially influential than ever before. Students will review and analyze traditions in storytelling and its evolution from traditional to modern-day structures. Students will examine narrative structures including character, arc, master plots and framing, and apply such elements to communication contexts relevant to our age of rapid communication and ubiquitous information. Students will assess and create video content that forges an emotional connection and tells a story in a memorable way without sacrificing accuracy or message. Students will examine how organizations and brands are leveraging trans-media storytelling to reach key audiences through compelling video narratives. Students will apply storytelling techniques in authentic communication contexts relevant to today's professional, digitized world. Building on students' foundation in video gathering and editing, the course requires students to storyboard, develop characters and critically evaluate elements suitable for video stories.

Important Notice:

This course includes University of Florida's Virtual Exchange (VE) program, in which instructors in two different countries connect their classes using technology. Students will work collaboratively on certain modules or assignments. This exchange will take place over 4-6 weeks during the early/mid portion of the course, and participation will be required as part of students' final grades (see "Grading Criterion" for more information). This experience offers an opportunity for students to explore different perspectives on the course topics, practice working on diverse teams, and network with others in their field on an international scale. Students are expected to act courteously and responsibly as ambassadors of the University of Florida when interacting with students from the partnering class.

Course Prerequisites / Co-Requisites – N/A

Course Expectations

This is a fully online course, and you must log in to Canvas with your Gatorlink username and password to access the materials and assignments. The course is organized into modules with due dates. Unless otherwise specified, each module begins on Monday at 12:00 AM, ET, and ends on Sunday at 11:59 PM, ET.

Time Commitment & Student Workload Expectations

Expect to spend between 10 to 20 hours per week, per course, watching or attending lectures, reading, working on assignments and projects, and engaging in discussions.

Expectations for Writing Assignments: Writing Style

To meet the academic rigor and standards of a graduate program, all students are required to use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition style in their courses when appropriate for the assignment. The APA 7th Edition Manual has a plethora of guidelines that includes scholarly writing, publishing principles, elements, and format for your papers, writing style, and grammar, bias-free language guidelines, mechanics of style, in-text citing references, etc. For additional information on notable changes, see changes between APA 6th Edition and APA 7th Edition.

Class Demeanor

Respectful and professional in all discussion postings, assignments and communications.

Attendance Policy

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies. Click here to read the university attendance policies for information on absences, religious holidays, illness, and the twelve-day rule. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog and require appropriate documentation.

Late Assignment Policy

Late assignments will not be accepted unless it is a University excused absence as stated in the attendance policies. No late work will be accepted for final projects or work due in the final week of class due to the university grading deadlines. If potential issues arise concerning submitting final work, students should contact their instructors before the assignment deadline.

Note that this course in particular deals with journalism, public relations, media business etc. which fundamentally depends on deadlines. Consistent with professional practice, late work is not accepted in this course without a verifiable emergency discussed in advance. Clients will not wait. Late professional work normally means you lose the account. We will apply the same standards in this course. University excused absences may be acceptable in this course, if discussed IN ADVANCE. Consult Canvas and the instructor's introductory course video for additional details on submission policies specific to this course.

Video assignments that cannot be played will not be graded and will also receive zero. Canvas and your instructor's introductory presentation includes more details on the playability policy.

Late discussion postings will not be accepted (per university standard policy).

Student Guidelines for Course Challenges

A student with questions regarding course content such as assignments, assessments, instructional materials, lectures, meetings, course objectives, course module objectives, or other areas of the course, please adhere to the following guidelines: first, approach the faculty member who is teaching the course to ask for clarifications regarding the course assignments, assessments, materials, lectures, meetings, etc. Use the instructor's contact information to request an appointment where you can address any concerns and/or questions. If after meeting with the faculty member teaching the course you are still not clear on the course assignments, assessments, materials, lectures, meetings, etc., then the next step would be to contact online advising (onlineadvising@jou.ufl.edu) for additional guidance.

Accessibility/Students with Disabilities Information

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letters with their instructors and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback professionally and respectfully is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email, they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

University and Course Grading Policies

University Honor Code

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies the number of behaviors that violate this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is unacceptable; especially, in academic communities. All academic work must be an original work of your own thought, research, or self-expression. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, prohibited collaboration, consultation, submission of academic work that has been purchased or obtained (see the UF Policy: Student Conduct Violation). In addition, self-plagiarism is also unacceptable. Self-plagiarism is defined as recycling or reusing one’s own specific words from previously submitted assignments or published texts. Remember that plagiarism is not acceptable in any of your work including all discussion board posts, journal entries, wikis, and other written and oral presentation assignments. It’s important to always cite your sources in your assignments.

Grading Criterion

Your grade will be calculated based on the following:

Assignments/Assessments	Weight (%)
Course Orientation: These assignments are required; however, they do not count towards final grade. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Student Introduction• Course Evaluation	0%
7 Discussions and Substantive Responses <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Worth up to 20 points each.	25%
4-5 Short Video/Editing Assignments <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Worth up to 100 points each.	25%
Collaborative (Global Virtual Exchange) Discussion Forum/Peer Interaction Assignments <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Complete/Incomplete and/or worth up to 40 points.	10%
Final Project Sequence (rough cut and final cut) <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Worth up to 100 points each.	40%
TOTAL	100%

Grade	Percentage
A	92.5-100%
A-	89.5-92.4%
B+	86.5-89.4%
B	82.5-86.4%
B-	79.5-82.4%
C+	76.5-79.4%
C	72.5-76.4%
C-	69.5-72.4%
D+	66.5-69.4%
D	62.5-66.4%
D-	59.5-62.4%
E	0 – 59.4%

The only passing grades for graduate students are A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, and C. Letter grades of C-, D+, D, D- or E are not considered passing at the graduate level, although the grade points associated with these letter grades are included in grade point average calculations. See the Graduate Catalog and UF graduate school grading policy for more information.

Student Privacy

There are federal laws protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments. For more information, please see the Notification to Students of FERPA Rights.

Technology Requirements

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students at the university are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Communication Policies

Student Expectations

You are responsible for watching all lectures and keeping up with the course readings. I send weekly reminder emails which you are also expected to read. All assignments contain detailed instructions and rubrics which students are expected to read.

Announcements

You are responsible for reading all announcements posted in the course each time you log in.

Email

You are responsible for reading all your course emails and responding promptly (within 24 hours).

Video Conferencing

You are responsible for attending course video conferencing meetings. If you cannot attend the video conferencing meeting, please advise the instructor and/or your team at least 24 hours in advance (exceptions can be made for legitimate emergencies). You are expected to demonstrate netiquette and etiquette communication expectations during these meetings.

Instructor Communications

Email Policy

Except for weekends, holidays, and University breaks, the instructor will typically respond to emails within 48 hours. For course-related questions please post in the Canvas FAQ discussion board. If you have questions of a personal nature, please email me directly.

Assignment Feedback Policy

I will provide feedback/grades on submitted assignments in within two weeks of the due date. Some assignments may require a longer review period, which I will communicate to you, if necessary.

Course Policies

Video Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Privacy

If your course includes live synchronous meetings, the class sessions will all be audio-visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. Please see UF's Information Technology policies for additional information.

Challenging Topics

In this course, we may cover subjects that may be sensitive and/or challenging. As in all our courses, we do this not to indoctrinate but to instruct, to prepare you to be the most effective and successful media professional or scholar that you can be. We encourage you to understand all concepts presented in class, but we know that what you personally believe is your choice. If you would like to discuss anything regarding this, please feel free to contact me directly.

Commitment to Diversity

The College of Journalism and Communications embraces diversity as a shared responsibility among faculty, staff and students and strives for tangible expressions of this responsibility. We are committed to fostering a safe, welcoming and inclusive environment for individuals of all races, genders, nationalities, religions, sexual orientations, identities and abilities to express their culture and perspectives through the art and science of journalism and communication.
