ABOUT THE COURSE

Social media have changed the way organizations communicate with their audiences. In this course, we will explore social media from a public relations perspective and understand how our roles as strategic communicators have evolved as a result. You will learn to develop a social media strategy, create content and measure meaningful results on behalf of organizations.

Social media changes every day. Because of this, the course content may also change, allowing us to address and analyze what's happening across the industry.

This course is centered on you and your needs. As such, the course will provide the opportunity for hands-on learning and real-world applications to help you gain experience and build a robust portfolio that showcases your social media and strategic thinking skills.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

In this course, you will learn the basic social media skills of public relations and digital professionals to prepare you to meet the demands of today's industry. You will:

1. Analyze the social media landscape and its role in public relations;
2. Apply fundamentals and best practices to social media management for organizations;
3. Create and tailor social media plans – including strategy, content and KPIs – based on your target audiences and objectives;

4. Use social media platforms and professional tools, such as Hootsuite, through hands-on learning opportunities;
5. Identify key performance indicators and measure the success of social media efforts;
6. Examine the ethical and legal implications and potential risks of social media for organizations;
7. Develop and apply critical thinking, listening and professional skills through assignments that mimic industry work with clients and peers.

COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM & COMMUNICATIONS OBJECTIVES

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications requires that by graduation all students should be able to:

- Apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, in a global context, and for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located;
- Demonstrate an understanding of the multicultural history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- Demonstrate culturally proficient communication that empowers those traditionally disenfranchised in society, especially as grounded in race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation and ability, domestically and globally, across communication and media contexts;
- Present images and information effectively and creatively, using appropriate tools and technologies;
- Write correctly and clearly in forms and styles appropriate for the communications professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
- Demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- Apply critical thinking skills in conducting research and evaluating information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- Effectively and correctly apply basic numerical and statistical concepts;
- Critically evaluate their own work and that of others for accuracy and fairness, clarity, appropriate style and grammatical correctness;
- Apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

COURSE FORMAT

This course will be 100% online, through e-Learning on Canvas (<https://elearning.ufl.edu/>). It is important for you to keep up with the video lectures, readings, assignments and exams. Course content will be published at least one week in advance for each module, giving you the opportunity to work ahead.

I will use Canvas for all course communication, which will include emails, reminders, and information through the announcements feature. Canvas can also remind you of upcoming due dates, so please be sure to check the site daily.

CLASS PARTICIPATION

This is an asynchronous course in that we don't have a set time each week to meet and discuss the material. However, there are due dates each week. It is vital that you meet those due dates. For more information on due dates, please see COURSE EXPECTATIONS.

REQUIRED MATERIALS

We do not have a specific textbook, but we will use the following materials:

- Required weekly online videos, readings and case studies.
- Social media training videos from Hootsuite Academy and Hubspot Academy.
- You will be asked to use social media platforms, such as Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn and X (formerly Twitter), to complete several assignments.

You should also consider these suggested readings and resources:

- National news and trade publications, such as The Wall Street Journal, PR Week, PRovoke Media, AdWeek and AdAge. Free content is available on all the listed publications, and you can create free accounts to several of these with your UFL login. You should also subscribe to their daily/weekly newsletters.
- Online databases accessible through the UF Library, such as WARC, Mintel, Simmons and Statista. See the advertising and public relations UF Library guides. You must be signed on with the UF VPN to access these databases.
- Training videos available on LinkedIn Learning. You may access LinkedIn Learning for free with your UFL login.

MATERIALS/SUPPLY FEES

There is a materials/supply fee for this course. Please see the schedule of courses at OneUF for more information.

PREREQUISITE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

As a 3000-level immersion course, PUR3622 will build on the foundational concepts that you have learned in prior courses. These include but are not limited to research, critical reading and analysis, self and peer evaluation, obtaining digital certifications, and journalistic writing. You will apply these skills as well as new learnings from our lectures, guest speakers, readings, and other materials to develop real-world social media skills.

MINIMUM TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

The University of Florida expects students entering an online program to acquire computer hardware and software appropriate to their degree program. A student's computer configuration should include webcam, microphone, broadband access, and Microsoft office suite.

Individual colleges may have additional requirements or recommendations, which students should review before starting their program. More information on technical requirements is available at the UF Online website.

Minimum Technical Skills

To complete your tasks in this course, you will need to know how to operate a computer and use the Internet and word processing software.

GRADING & ASSIGNMENTS

QUIZ POLICY

The orientation quiz does not count towards your final average, but it must be completed at a score of 100% before the rest of the course will open. There are also a number of graded PlayPosit quizzes embedded in the module lectures. All quizzes may be taken multiple times. See below for more information.

FINAL EXAM

The Group Social Media Project will be treated as your final exam. The rationale behind this is that every lesson should culminate in an understanding of what makes a successful social media strategy. Your project is a good way to assess your comprehension of these standards. For more information on the project, please see below.

COMPONENTS OF YOUR FINAL GRADE

- PlayPosit Quizzes (10%) – Most module lecture videos use PlayPosit. This tool allows instructors to add interactions to lectures, such as graded quiz questions and links to external resources. You must score 100% on each PlayPosit to be considered complete, but you will have unlimited retakes.
- Weekly Assignments & Discussions (40%) – In-class activities will require that you practice and apply the skills learned throughout the course, including identifying keywords, setting benchmarks and generating insights. Specific details about each assignment will be provided throughout the semester.
- Group Social Media Project (40%) – With your group, you will develop a social media campaign plan for a client. You will complete several components of the plan throughout the semester that will count toward your final grade. The final project will require you to create a PPT and record your presentation as a team. Your team members' evaluations of your contribution and overall participation will affect your grade, too. See the breakdown below:
 - Components – 40%
 - Final Project and Presentation – 50%
 - Peer Evaluations – 10%

- Hootsuite Platform Certification (10%) – You will complete your Hootsuite Platform Certification this semester. If you already have this certification, you will complete Hootsuite’s Social Marketing Certification. Both are free to you as part of this course.
- Extra Credit Opportunity: Social Media Digests – Social media is always changing, and it’s important to keep up with the latest news, platform updates and brand wins and fails. This semester, we’re going to read and analyze social media news as a team. You can earn up to a 5% boost to your group project grade by contributing to four social media digests throughout the semester. Note that each digest has a different due date.

GRADING POLICY

Final grades will be based on the following scale:

- | | |
|--------------|----------------|
| • A: 92-100% | • C: 72-77% |
| • A-: 90-91% | • C-: 70-71% |
| • B+: 88-89% | • D+: 68-69% |
| • B: 82-87% | • D: 62-67% |
| • B-: 80-81% | • D-: 60-61% |
| • C+: 78-79% | • E: below 60% |

COURSE EXPECTATIONS

SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS

Social media management takes time, practice and consistency. Manage your time wisely. Please do not wait until the last minute to start working on your assignments. Public relations and social media professionals are often bound by tight, important deadlines and missing these can damage their and their clients’ reputation.

Everything you write for this course must be coherent, logical and carefully edited. All assignments must be “client-ready,” which means they have been proofread, reviewed and formatted so they are ready to submit to your client (or in this case, to me).

Assignments will be completed either individually or as a group, as indicated on Canvas. I will assign groups for your social media project at the beginning of the semester.

DEADLINES

Assignments are due on Canvas by 11:59 p.m. on the due date unless otherwise noted.

Though late assignments are not generally accepted, I know life happens. You may submit one assignment late (48 hours maximum) without any penalty. If you need to step away from an activity or assignment for a period of time, please let me know as soon as possible via email in advance.

Requirements for make-up assignments and other work in this course are consistent with university policies found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>.

FEEDBACK

If you have a grading concern when you receive feedback, you must submit this request within one week of receiving your grade on the assignment. Requests after one week will not be accepted.

My goal is to grade all assignments within one week of the due date, but there may be delays in grading during the semester.

ACADEMIC HONESTY & CONDUCT

The work you submit must be your own and specific to this course. You may be asked to reflect on your past experiences for assignments, but you should not submit anything that you wrote for another class, internship, as a volunteer or in another academic or professional setting as work for this course.

Use APA format to cite all sources, including websites and social media pages. Anything copied word for word must have quotations around it and clear attribution. You must also list your sources in a references page.

As a UF student, you are bound the UF Student Conduct and Honor Codes, which provide examples of unethical academic behavior, such as cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation and fabrication. Any case of academic dishonesty will result in failing the course. I will follow university guidelines for any incidents of academic dishonesty.

To view the UF Student Conduct and Honor Codes, visit:
<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/>.

PROFESSIONALISM

The College of Journalism and Communications is a professional school, and professional decorum is expected at all times. You are expected to conduct yourself in an honest, ethical, respectful and courteous manner with other students and with me, abiding by the UF Student Conduct and Honor Codes.

Because this course will be entirely online, please follow rules of common courtesy for email, discussions and chats. UF provides a Netiquette Guide for Online Courses here: <http://teach.ufl.edu/wp-content/uploads/2012/08/NetiquetteGuideforOnlineCourses.pdf>.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

Early each week, you should read through the weekly Canvas module to get an idea of what you will need to do and how much time you will need to allot for each activity.

Block out several chunks of time each week that you will dedicate to this course, the same way that you would have scheduled lecture times for a synchronous course.

To succeed in the course, give yourself time to digest course content, make use of available resources, ask questions, and pace yourself as you work on the group project.

Remember that success is possible with time, effort, and commitment!

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY, EQUITY, INCLUSION, & ACCESS

Your experience in this class is important to me. We will respect each other and all who join us. I am committed to creating an inclusive, equitable and accessible learning environment that respects and is enhanced by our diversity of ethnicity, race, culture, gender, sexuality, disability, age, religion and socioeconomic status. I aim to make this course valuable to all students. Your feedback and suggestions (which can be anonymous) to make this course more effective are always encouraged and appreciated.

If I can make this a better learning experience for you, in any way, please let me know.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students with disabilities who would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. If you have an accommodation letter, please let me know as early as possible in the semester so we can discuss your needs.

To contact the Disability Resource Center, visit <https://disability.ufl.edu/> or call 352-392-8565.

LET'S CHAT

I'm here for you! Feel free to email me or stop by during office hours via Zoom. I'm happy to provide feedback or guidance on assignments, talk about careers/grad school, and answer questions as best I can. Course-related questions should be sent via Canvas inbox or email using professional communication, and I will typically respond within 24 hours during the M-F work week. If you have not received a reply within 24 hours, please feel free to send me a follow-up email. In the case of emails that may not be addressed over a weekend, I will provide a response on the following Monday.

OTHER COURSE POLICIES & PROCEDURES

Any online class sessions may be audio-visually recorded. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image.

Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to having your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared.

As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

ONLINE COURSE EVALUATION POLICY

At the end of the semester, please provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>.

Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

RECORDING

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course.

A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services.

A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Policy on Course Syllabi 3 UF, Academic Affairs, August 5th, 2021, Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
