professional master's capstone project overview

The Professional Master's capstone project is an advanced-level project that requires students to apply and demonstrate the knowledge and skills gained in their academic coursework. These projects are meant to be the culmination of your graduate studies showcasing a breadth of integrated knowledge and professional-level work in one or more areas within the field of communications.

Students will work individually and have the opportunity to explore a variety of topics and media for delivering their project. Through this process, each student will select and work with a committee of experts, including a Chair and one additional member that will guide the work over a minimum of two semesters (6 credit hours) of MMC 6910.

Developing a sufficiently focused project can be difficult, particularly when one is passionate about their chosen topic. Students often attempt to tackle too much, such as addressing a problem that is overly broad, complex, and time-consuming to resolve within a few months. The project might instead focus on a specific "segment" of the larger puzzle, perhaps completing the initial approach. The advantage of identifying a professional problem is that you can continue refining it even after graduation. Your completed project should be a source of pride when presenting to prospective employers.

course policies

class participation, attendance

Attendance is mandatory. If you are ill or have another excusable type of absence (court appearance, medical emergency, religious holiday, conference presentations), you need to notify me, preferably before class, in order for it to be excused. Things that aren't excused are holiday travel, meetings for other classes, social engagements and the like. More than one unexcused absence will result in the loss of a full letter grade from your final grade for each unexcused absence. Please see: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/> for a full list of policies related to attendance and excused absences.

Graduate school requires a lot of class preparation. Please don't waste your valuable time and money by not coming to class prepared. This is your opportunity to critically engage with the course material..

late paper policy: You will lose one letter grade for each day it is late. Note: you will be penalized a full letter grade if it is 10 minutes late.

academic integrity

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at <https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-codestudentconduct-code/> UF Plagiarism Policy Plagiarism Definition - A student shall not represent as the student's own work all or any portion of the work of another.

Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:

- Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution.
- Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authorized by the student.
- Unauthorized use of materials or resources.
- Prohibited collaboration or consultation.
- Submission of paper or academic work purchased or obtained for an outside source.

- If you have any questions or concerns if it qualifies for plagiarism, just ask!

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructors in this class.

Students affected by such challenges and requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office, Disability Resource Center. The Dean of Students will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the professor when requesting accommodation. Accommodations aren't made "after the fact."

course evaluations

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.
