MEETING TIMES

This course is an in-person course with designated meeting times on Thursdays from 10:40 pm - 11:30 am or by appt.

LET'S CHAT

Instructors are available during office hours (see above), via email, or via Slack. Please note that communication may be delayed via email or Slack as they also teach other courses and have other commitments outside of The Agency. We will do our best to get back to you as soon as possible!

ABOUT THE COURSE

The Agency is an innovative, real-world advertising and public relations firm at the University of Florida's College of Journalism and Communications that offers students an opportunity to build their expertise and gain experience in a hands-on environment, working directly with clients and industry professionals. This immersion course is focused on deepening your understanding of industry roles and processes. Students are in specific sections/courses based on their department and role, with faculty instructors overseeing and guiding you through the course.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

In this immersion course at The Agency, you will:

- Understand The Agency's mission, values and goals.
- Familiarize yourself with The Agency's organizational structure, workflows and tools.
- Understand the goals and functions across The Agency, including identifying the responsibilities of your role.
- Collaborate cross-departmentally to apply learned skills using industry-leading tools.
- Develop critical thinking, strategic thinking, creative problem-solving and teamwork skills.
- Present ideas as a team in a compelling, effective and professional way.
- Participate in client meetings through shadowing opportunities and collaborate with peers to understand client interactions, needs and expectations.
- Understand the purpose and responsibilities of The Agency's internal teams and contribute to internal projects.
- Work in and contribute to a dynamic, diverse team environment.

PREREQUISITE

This course will be departmentally controlled. Students must have been successful in their application to join The Agency.

COURSE FORMAT

This is a Fall 2025 course that meets Thursdays from 10:40 pm - 11:30 am in The Agency office.

All course assignments are available on Canvas at <https://elearning.ufl.edu>. To succeed in this course, students are expected to be active members of The Agency, attend our weekly meetings and complete the required course assignments. Your course participation must not conflict with your other scheduled courses.

SUGGESTED READINGS & RESOURCES

The following are suggested readings and resources for the course:

- National news and trade publications, such as AdWeek, AdAge, PR Week, The Holmes Report, and The Wall Street Journal. Free content is available on all the listed publications, and you can create free accounts to several of these with your UFL login. You are encouraged to also subscribe to their daily/weekly newsletters.

- Online databases accessible through the UF Library, such as WARC, Mintel, Simmons and Statista. See the advertising and public relations UF Library guides. You must be signed on with the UF VPN to access these databases while off campus.
- Training videos available on LinkedIn Learning. You may access LinkedIn Learning for free with your UFL login. Relevant reading materials and news articles will also be shared on an ad hoc basis to stay up to date with current events and industry news.

ASSIGNMENTS

For more details on all assignments, please check Canvas.

Participation and Attendance 50%

You'll be working all semester in Agency teams, and you'll be given time during every class to collaborate on assignments. As a result, it's important that you are present and participating. You will be submitting timesheets each week. Please notify us if you are unable to be present for any reason. When in class, make sure you are actively listening, discussing, and working with your team. Timesheets are due weekly by Friday at 11:59pm.

- Attendance - 25%
- Timesheets - 25%

Assignments 40%

1. Monthly reports - Students are expected to submit monthly reports on their work. These reports should include a list of the projects you are working on and their status, as well as any supporting documents that were created or are being utilized as part of your work. These will be department specific.
2. One-on-one meetings - Each student will be responsible for meeting with their instructor and department manager at least once during the semester during office hours or by appointment to discuss their progress and evaluate their work level and professionalism.
3. Individual assignments - Each immersion section will include assignments specific to the immersion topic.

Professionalism 10%

Overall professionalism, engagement and work quality - this is an evaluation of your interaction with peers, clients and supervisors; initiative; professional attitude; time management; work quality, including follow-through on assigned work; willingness to accept and incorporate constructive feedback and active participation in The Agency, including meetings, workshops, engagement on Slack and Zoom, etc. Students will be evaluated at the end of the semester. If students disengage completely or stop replying to communication, they will earn a 0 for the remainder of the course.

HOW TO SUBMIT ASSIGNMENTS

You will submit all assignments on Canvas. Assignments are due by 11:59 p.m. on the due date unless otherwise noted.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS

COMMUNICATION & FEEDBACK

Students will be required to communicate and stay up to date with The Agency team. Slack is The Agency's primary form of communication. Your instructors are available to you over Slack during scheduled class and office hour times, and may also be available during other regular business hours. You can reach out to your faculty instructors over Slack or email as needed; otherwise, Agency staff are also available regularly to assist you. As faculty, we value hearing the questions or concerns you have about the course or your experience at The Agency. We are happy to provide feedback or guidance throughout the semester and meet with you one-on-one via Zoom or phone.

COURSE PROFESSIONALISM

The College of Journalism and Communications is a professional school, and professional decorum is expected at all times. You are expected to conduct yourself in an honest, ethical, respectful and courteous manner with other students and with your instructors, abiding by the UF Student Conduct and Honor Codes. Please engage in conversations with care, respect and empathy for others.

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND RESOURCES

ACADEMIC POLICIES

- Requirements for class attendance, assignments, and other work in the course are consistent with university policies. See UF Academic Regulations and Policies for more information regarding the University Attendance Policies.
- Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center. See the "Get Started With the DRC" webpage on the Disability Resource Center site. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.
- Information on current UF grading policies is available here.

- Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online.

Students can complete evaluations in three ways:

1. The email they receive from GatorEvals
2. Their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals
3. The central portal at <https://my-ufl.bluer.com>

Guidance on how to provide constructive feedback is available at <https://gatorevals.ua.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.ua.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

THE UNIVERSITY'S HONESTY POLICY REGARDING CHEATING, PLAGIARISM, ETC.:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. See the UF Conduct Code website for more information. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

IN-CLASS RECORDING:

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal education use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor. A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by an instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course.

A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or guest lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless, of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
