Course Description and Prerequisites

Course Description: The graduate capstone course is the final course in UF CJC Online Master's program in which the students will demonstrate the application of the knowledge and skills gained throughout their learning in the program. The students will work individually to integrate, synthesize, and apply their knowledge to solve a real-world challenge in their specialization. This course was designed for the student to complete a professional deliverable intended to display enhanced problem solving, analytical and critical thinking, and masterful communication skills by applying theory to practice and linking theory to the professional world. This professional deliverable will serve as evidence of the various skills and abilities the student has gained during the program and can bring to a potential employer.

Course Prerequisites – Students must have all core courses completed with a grade of B or above and be in their final semester.

Course Expectations

This course is fully online; you must log in to Canvas with your Gatorlink username and password to access the materials and assignments. The course is organized into modules with due dates. Unless otherwise specified, each module begins on Monday at 12:00 AM ET and ends on Sunday at 11:59 PM ET.

Time Commitment & Student Workload Expectations
Expect to spend 10 to 20 hours per week per course watching or attending lectures, reading, working on assignments and projects, and engaging in discussions.

Expectations for Writing Assignments: Writing Style
To meet the academic rigor and standards of a graduate program, all students must use the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th Edition style in their courses when appropriate for the assignment. The APA 7th Edition Manual has a plethora of guidelines that include scholarly writing, publishing principles, elements and format for your papers, writing style and grammar, bias-free language guidelines, mechanics of style, in-text citing references, etc. For additional information on notable changes, see changes between APA 6th Edition and APA 7th Edition.

Attendance Policy
Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies. Click here to read the university attendance policies for information on absences, religious holidays, illness, and the twelve-day rule. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog and require appropriate documentation.

Late Assignment Policy
Late assignments will not be accepted unless it is a University excused absence, as stated in the attendance policies. Due to the university grading deadlines, no late work will be accepted for final projects or work due in the final week of class. Students should contact their instructors before submitting the assignment deadline if potential issues arise concerning submitting the final work.

1. Late Assignment Grade Reductions
    a. 0-24 Hours Late: 10% reduction in grade.

Textbooks and Materials

Required Course Textbook(s)

This course does not require the purchase of any textbooks. However, assigned readings will be provided and integrated throughout the course modules to support your learning and engagement with the material.

Independent Research

As part of the Public Relations Capstone experience, students are expected to conduct independent, self-directed research to inform the development of their strategic communications campaigns. This requirement reflects the real-world expectations of communications professionals who must seek out credible data, uncover audience insights, analyze trends, and assess media environments without relying solely on assigned readings or instructor-provided materials.

Independent research in this course may include, but is not limited to:

- Reviewing current academic and industry publications.
- Analyzing case studies relevant to your campaign focus.
- Gathering secondary data on target audiences, competitors, or media usage.
- Evaluating publicly available reports, datasets, or polling results.
- Monitoring relevant news coverage, social media activity, or public discourse.

You are responsible for selecting reputable sources, applying critical thinking, and properly citing all materials in APA 7th edition format. Your research findings should clearly support the rationale behind your goals, objectives, strategies, tactics, and evaluation metrics throughout your campaign deliverables. Demonstrating strong research skills not only enhances the quality of your work but also reinforces your credibility as a strategic communicator.

Course Policies
Video Recording
Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal, educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To "publish" means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Privacy

If your course includes live synchronous meetings, the class sessions will all be recorded for students in the class to refer to and for enrolled students who cannot attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilized a profile image agree to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who unmute during class and participate agree to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. Please see UF's Information Technology policies for additional information.

Challenging Topics

In this course, we may cover subjects that may be sensitive and/or challenging. As in all our courses, we do this not to indoctrinate but to instruct, to prepare you to be the most effective and successful media professional or scholar you can be. We encourage you to understand all concepts presented in class, but we know that what you personally believe is your choice. If you want to discuss anything regarding this, don't hesitate to contact me directly.
