SPECIALTY: _____

MINOR (if any): _____

ADVISER: _____

TOTAL CREDITS REQUIRED: 31 CREDITS MINIMUM (excluding undergraduate courses throughout the university). Students write and successfully orally defend a thesis. No more than six (6) thesis credits may be applied to the minimum total of thirty-one (31). Students who lack appropriate undergraduate studies or work experience in journalism will complete articulation courses.

Students seeking to earn a specialization in communications law within the MAMC in Journalism must, subject to the discretion of their faculty advisor and the Sr. Associate Dean for Graduate Studies and Research: 1) take and complete MMC 5206 within Section B (Journalism Courses), regardless of whether they have successfully completed a prior media law class with a B- or higher; 2) take and complete MMC 6665 and MMC 6666 within Section C (Electives); and 3) complete a master's thesis (not a project-in-lieu of a thesis) on a communications law topic. Students seeking to enter a joint degree program culminating in both a Juris Doctor degree, awarded by the College of Law, and a Master of Arts in Mass Communication degree, awarded by the College of Journalism and Communications, must satisfy the curriculum requirements for each degree. Certain courses may be used in partial satisfaction of the requirements of both degrees. The Graduate Division of the College of Journalism and Communications will allow up to eleven (11) credits of appropriate law courses to be credited toward the MAMC and JD degrees. The 11 credits selected from the law curriculum require the approval of the Sr. Associate Dean for Graduate Studies and Research upon the recommendation of the student's graduate supervisory committee.
